R.A.F. Join Drive On Siegfried Line

By JOHN MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
PARIS (AP) — The French army, fighting its way across the northwestern frontier into bordering German woods, prepared the way today for a joint British-French offensive against the Siegfried line.
The War Ministry issued the following communique No. 9, for the morning of September 8: "We succeeded in effecting local advances of varied importance, improving noticeably the conditions of our advance at certain points."
The French general staff said their army's action had caused Germany to rush reinforcements into the 100-mile-long sector extending along the Siegfried line from Luxembourg border to the northeastern tip of France near Lauterbourg, an ancient Roman fortress town and now a key area in the French Maginot line.

The fighting rolled along the whole length of the frontier down to Switzerland.
Genevieve Tabouis, writing in L'Oeuvre, said the Poles were using only 15 divisions against the Germans, with 45 more waiting intact on prepared defence positions behind the Vistula River.
British soldiers and pilots crowded Paris streets. The Royal Air Force already is operating over the Siegfried line area.
The French gave the Tommies a great reception, both on the street and in the press.

Berlin Says Troops Through to Warsaw

BERLIN (AP) — The German supreme high command said tonight that a German armored car division had entered Warsaw at 5:15 p.m. (8:15 a.m., P.S.T.), a week after the invasion of Poland began.

The same announcement said the troops (the wording indicated it was the same column) had reached Nadarzyn, 12 miles southwest of the capital, forging rapidly ahead.

Both the Danish radio and a dispatch of the Hungarian official news agency in Warsaw reported German troops in Warsaw.

German army communiques earlier today placed three German armies, converging from the north, west and southwest, all within a day's motorized march of Warsaw.

One — not specified — was reported then within artillery range of the city.

The northern German army had been reported beyond Pulask, about 28 miles north of Warsaw, and its vanguard was said to have crossed the Narew River.

(This, presumably, was the force reported to have entered Warsaw.)

The army advancing from the southwest earlier had been reported making rapid progress. It was said to have captured Mszczonow, about 25 miles from the capital.

The third column, from the west, was reported in the 8 a.m. (2 a.m. E.S.T.) communique to be 38 miles from Warsaw after taking the towns of Rawa and Moziewica.

(The Warsaw radio had broadcast that the Polish retreat so far was "for strategic reasons" and had appealed to Warsaw's inhabitants to help fortify the city to resist as did long-besieged Madrid in the Spanish civil war.)

French 8 Miles In Germany

PARIS (AP) — The northern flank of the French army was reported tonight to have driven seven to eight miles within German territory.

This information, which was received in official circles without confirmation by the high command bore out other reports of fighting on the western front which said the French advance at the end of the sixth day of fighting had averaged from three to four miles.

Tanks and armored cars were reported for the first time to have entered the conflict, supporting deployed infantry in a give-and-take action between French and German troops in the no-man's-land at the tip of the western frontier, where the French Maginot and the German Siegfried lines fan out to a distance of some 25 miles apart.

An advance eight miles within German territory would place French advance guards at the extreme northern end of the front approximately half way between the German frontier and the Siegfried line.

German Island Attacked

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The thunder of guns and bombs last night and early today indicated an attack was being made on the German island of Sylt by air-planes.

(Sylt is just off the southwest extremity of Denmark.)
The island is the site of an important German anti-aircraft defence fortification.

'Fight to Finish'—Poles

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Warsaw radio, silent yesterday, today broadcast a statement that "the Polish army will yet start its offensive."
The present retreat is for strategic reasons, the announcement declared.
"The war will continue a long time. The Poles will not capitulate."

"We will fight to the finish."
"The Polish air fleet is intact. The world will understand this before long."
The broadcaster appealed to all citizens to help fortify Warsaw.

U.S. May Be Forced Into War

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, United States Navy, retired, declared today that America "may be forced into the war to fight for its security, to maintain its freedom, in fact to save the life of the nation."

"I personally consider this war is but a continuation of the last one," he said. "If we were correct in fighting the last war, which I believe we were, then we belong alongside Great Britain and France today against Hitler and all he stands for."

No Conscription For Canada; 14 Ships Sunk, Total Sea Toll

Dominion to Send Air Force to Fight In Europe

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King, speaking in the House of Commons today, repeated his assertion of last March that the government does not believe conscription necessary in Canada and "no such measure will be introduced by the present administration."

Canada's armed co-operation with Britain and France for the present will be in the defence of the Atlantic Coast and Newfoundland, the Prime Minister said.

Other co-operation would be in supplies and financial assistance. Measures for the training and "the despatch of trained air personnel" as the most immediate and effective co-operation with Great Britain, would be proposed by the government, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today.

Conferences with the allies would be necessary "before any intelligent and definite decision could be made as to Canadian action (in other theatres) even in the immediate future," he said.

Co-operation with the Empire, as proposed by the government, would be in defence of the Gulf and River St. Lawrence, the Atlantic coast, Newfoundland and the coast of Labrador and the French territory in the gulf, Mr. Mackenzie King said.

"We will not only be defending Canada but we will also be assisting Great Britain and France by enabling them to concentrate their energies more in those parts of the world in which their own immediate security is at stake," the Prime Minister said.

The Prime Minister declared if the House of Commons would not support the government in standing beside Great Britain in the war against Germany it would have to find another government.

No country in northern Europe which now called itself neutral would bear the same name if Great Britain and France lost in the war with Germany, the Prime Minister said. Neutrality and isolation would be a myth anywhere in the world in the event of a German victory.

'CANADA AT WAR'

Conservative leader R. J. Manion said the war against Germany is for the preservation of human liberty. He assured the government of the full support of the official opposition in co-operating with the United Kingdom.

"When Britain is at war, Canada is at war, there can be no doubt of that," he said. "I call upon the government to declare openly and clearly our position." He did not think the speech from the throne was sufficiently clear that Canada was at war on the side of Britain.

The people of Canada have a right to a full and complete statement as to its position, Dr. Manion said. "I do not believe there can be any neutrality in any part of the Empire when any other part is at war."

Tracing the events that led up to the war, the Conservative leader said Poland's cause was just, and Great Britain and France were duty bound to go to her assistance. "Nor can we do otherwise if we wish to preserve our souls."

The official opposition tendered its full co-operation with the government, he said. The Conservative Party would resort to nothing in the nature of political manoeuvres or capricious criticism.

Stern measures should be instituted to prevent profiteering. "While the volunteer is offering his life, the profiteer and the racketeer should be eliminated."

Dr. Manion urged strict examination of recruits, and cited a battalion which went to England from Canada in the Great War in which one-third were found to be physically unfit. It caused much unnecessary expense on the country. "That must not be repeated and I might add it can easily be prevented."

Dependents of those who volunteer should be treated generously, he said, but as far as possible men with dependents should be kept out of danger zones.

"Let not the abuses of political patronage, favoritism interfere with our national effort, the Conservative leader urged. It was an effort above party, race or creed."

AGAINST WAR

As the House opened Maxime Raymond, Liberal, Beauharnois-Laprairie, submitted a petition against Canadian participation in war in the House of Commons today. He said it was signed by "thousands of citizens," and laid it on the table of the House without comment.

The petition was contained in four paper-wrapped packages. Its contents were not available immediately.

Galleries of the House were filled to capacity as the second sitting of the special war session of Parliament opened.

Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General, was a spectator and foreign delegations were well represented.

Col. H. S. Hamilton, Liberal, Algoma West, moved the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. In the grave circumstances under which Parliament is assembled at this time, he said, "talk should be brief, and action as prompt, and vigorous as possible."

"We must refute the charge so often made that democracies are good debating societies, but incapable of prompt and effective action."

Col. Hamilton thanked Prime Minister King for carrying out his promise to call Parliament if it became necessary to decide the issue of peace or war; praised him for his refusal to dissolve Parliament for a general election in the face of the crisis which has now developed into war.

"May I also express my respect and admiration to the Leader of the Opposition (Hon. R. J. Manion) for the understanding and restraint he has shown, particularly in the last few weeks in permitting the government to have a free hand. These same remarks I apply to the leaders of the other groups in this House," said Col. Hamilton.

The world was confronted with a philosophy which knew nothing of the rights of the individual man, except his willingness to obey. It was a philosophy wholly in conflict with the one in which the Canadian people had and would seek their happiness and freedom.

"To me this war is Canada's war," he said. "To me the defeat of Britain is the defeat of Canada. To me the defeat of France is the defeat of Canada. To me the death of every British, French or Polish soldier, sailor and airman in resisting German aggression is a life given in the service of Canada."

The organized strength and power of Canada should be thrown into the balance against German military forces, "and the philosophy upon which they are based," Col. Hamilton said. "If that assistance involved sending an expeditionary force to fight in Europe I am for that too."

"EQUALITY OF SACRIFICE"
Canada's great need at the moment was that the Government should have the confidence and faith of the people. And one of the first essentials to achieve that faith and confidence was that there should be "equality of sacrifice."

All citizens should share equally in the sacrifice of human material, share financially in proportion to their means, and there should be heavy penalties for profiteering.

Nothing was more important than the unity of Canada, all people all races and creeds in Canada should march step by step in a great national endeavor.

"I served in the ranks in the last war as did members of my family, and I voted against conscription."
"I do not know what my thoughts on conscription are now. It has occurred to me a better and fairer method of organizing our manpower might be found along that line. But if it is necessary in the interests of Canadian unity to forego all thoughts of that method I say by all means let us do so."

Dispatches saying a group of youthful Italians at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., had rushed the canal guards and been repulsed were wholly "inaccurate and unfortunate," said Col. Hamilton.

"They did a gross injustice to a fine body of loyal Canadian citizens," he declared. "Such reports, unfounded and carelessly disseminated, will not make for the unity of our Canadian citizens."

There should be somebody set up to mobilize the manpower of Canada, not only for the army but necessary services.

If a body was not created much ability, experience and capacity would not be put to proper use. Col. Hamilton warned the government against a mistake he said was made in the early days of the last war, that of failing to give promotion to those who earned it in the field.

Later it was the practice of promoting from within the forces that resulted in the building up of a splendid Canadian corps.

Col. Hamilton also argued against the custom in the last war of taking Canadians to England for training. All the training should be carried out in Canada.

He had hoped never to be called upon to vote for what might send a Canadian boy to death or wounding, Col. Hamilton said.

"That moment" possibly has come, he said, but he would not ask another to make a sacrifice he was not prepared to share himself.

HEPT PROMISE
J. A. Blanchette (Liberal, Compton), seconding the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, prefaced his remarks by expressing pleasure at the fact the government has kept its promise of calling Parliament before taking any decisive action with respect to Canada's participation in the present conflict.

All peace efforts having failed, he said, "we are now faced with the duty of making a choice between justice and reconciliation on the one hand and brutal force on the other."

"As a partner in the British Commonwealth of Nations, Canada cannot remain indifferent in these critical times."
"While we are privileged to enjoy our partnership in this association of British nations, we must also be prepared to assume the obligations such an association entails."

"I do not believe there can be any neutrality for any part of the Empire when some other part of it is at war," said Dr. Manion.

CHRISTIANITY AT STAKE
In the present conflict, Christianity was at stake. Hitler had persecuted both Protestants and Catholics. He recognized no individual rights either to freedom of speech, press or religion.

Had Hitler stopped at a certain point he might have gone down in history as a great German leader. He served the German people well up to a point. But he said the desire of the allies for peace was so strong they were prepared to concede many things rather than wage war.

Hitler now demanded Poland submit or be destroyed.
"They refused, and that was the only choice free men could make. The Poles deserve success, and if they do not get it then justice is indeed blind," said Dr. Manion.

France and Britain could do nothing but support them, and Canadians could not call their souls their own if they did not join in the fight. The liberties obtained and defended during 1,000 years would be lost.

CANADA RICH PRIZE
Canada was the richest prize in the world and would be exposed to attack should the democracies be defeated. The battleground then might well be here. "I submit that our best defence is an offensive in far-off lands," said Dr. Manion.

"Profiteering must not be permitted," Dr. Manion said. "Anybody taking such advantage of the situation should be prosecuted."

"While the volunteer is risking his life the profiteer and racketeer must be eliminated."

He urged the efficient organization to their means, and there should be heavy penalties for profiteering.

Nothing was more important than the unity of Canada, all people all races and creeds in Canada should march step by step in a great national endeavor.

"I served in the ranks in the last war as did members of my family, and I voted against conscription."

"I do not know what my thoughts on conscription are now. It has occurred to me a better and fairer method of organizing our manpower might be found along that line. But if it is necessary in the interests of Canadian unity to forego all thoughts of that method I say by all means let us do so."

Dispatches saying a group of youthful Italians at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., had rushed the canal guards and been repulsed were wholly "inaccurate and unfortunate," said Col. Hamilton.

way best suited to assist the Allies is the course to be pursued, and in my opinion the only logical and sensible one."

If there was ever a time for national unity it is the present, said Mr. Blanchette. There must be universal concern for Canada as an entity rather than collection of provinces with various problems.

He said he favored "the necessary organization for the defence of my country." He had confidence in the present government and praised the government leaders for their policy of "moderation and prudence."

He was definitely against conscription, Mr. Blanchette said, recalling that he had always opposed such a measure. He finished his address with a plea to the House to "remain calm and prudent" in considering the present serious situation.

CONSERVATIVE STAND

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, said he agreed with most if not all the sentiments expressed by Col. Hamilton. He reminded the House both Col. Hamilton and Mr. Blanchette served in the Great War, the former in the Canadian forces and the latter in the American.

"I hope that all of us, in this Parliament and elsewhere, will be tolerant of the view of other Canadians," said Dr. Manion.

Two great wars in little more than a generation was a heavy load for the world to bear, he said. But it was a source of satisfaction that in this war, as in the last, it was thrust upon Great Britain and her allies.

The Prime Minister had announced he would ask Parliament to give the government authority for effective co-operation by the side of Great Britain in the war against German aggression.

GIVES SUPPORT

"I may say at once that he has the assent and support of the party I represent," Dr. Manion declared.

The word should go out to Britain at this time.
"We are bound to participate in this war. We are a part of the British Empire and I never could see how we could be in the Empire and out of it at the same time."

Dr. Manion quoted the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Liberal opposition in 1914, and endorsed Sir Wilfrid's declaration it was Canada's duty to assist Great Britain to the limit in the conflict and declared the words were as true today as in 1914.

"I do not believe there can be any neutrality for any part of the Empire when some other part of it is at war," said Dr. Manion.

Local problems should not be forgotten "while Canada is at war," Dr. Manion said. He added that the government would probably ask tomorrow for a war fund of $100,000,000. That was as it should be, but in raising that money there should be no high interest rates such as were offered on war loans during the last war.

The Speech from the Throne was not sufficiently definite as to Canada's position in the conflict. He hoped the Prime Minister would make a statement which would leave no doubt in any mind.

"After all, as part of the British Empire, we are at war today," said the Conservative leader. "I think we might well declare our position openly and publicly."

PREMIER SPEAKS
Prime Minister Mackenzie King opened his speech by reminding the House that Dr. Manion had served in the Great War as well as Col. Hamilton and Mr. Blanchette. It was significant that the first three speeches of the session should be made by Great War veterans.

Those speeches reflected the heart of the people of Canada. Despite difference in the past, Mr. King said he never had any doubt that in a crisis Dr. Manion would stand with him to unite the people of Canada for a great national effort.

It was also significant that the two first speakers should represent the two races which largely made up the population of Canada and should also represent the two countries, Britain and France

British Tanker, German Freighter Today's Victims

By the Associated Press
The sinking of three more ships, a British tanker, a small German freighter and a Dutch minesweeper, today raised the known losses in the sea warfare between the Allies and Germany to 14 vessels.

Twenty-nine of the 51 persons aboard the minesweeper were killed when an explosion sank the ship off the West Frisian Islands in the north sea. Officials in Amsterdam said the craft struck a mine and sank in a minute.

In tonnage the British and French have lost 51,875, including the 3,747-ton French ship Tamara, unheard from since she was reported torpedoed off the northwest coast of Spain.

The Germans have lost 14,765 tons of shipping.

The two latest victims, besides the minesweeper, were the British tanker Regent Tiger, listed in Lloyd's Registry as a 10,176-ton ship, and the German freighter, Helfried Bismark, a 727-ton craft.

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — Government officials announced that 29 of 51 persons aboard a Netherlands minesweeper were killed today when an explosion sank the vessel off the West Frisian Islands, northern Netherlands.

The officials said the minesweeper struck a mine in territorial waters and went down within a minute.

Three naval craft from the Helder naval base started a thorough investigation after participating in rescue work.

The officials did not indicate whether they established by whom the mine was laid or whether it had been placed, or drifted into Netherlands waters.

zation of industry and resources, but warned that "the abuse of political patronage and favoritism must not interfere with the effectiveness of our national effort."

The opposition leader declared the greatest care should be taken to keep the physically unfit out of the army, that provision be made for the dependents of those who go overseas, and to make sure, so far as possible that those with dependents should be kept out of the danger zone.

Local problems should not be forgotten "while Canada is at war," Dr. Manion said. He added that the government would probably ask tomorrow for a war fund of $100,000,000. That was as it should be, but in raising that money there should be no high interest rates such as were offered on war loans during the last war.

LISBON (AP) — The Italian steamer Castellanico reported today she had rescued 23 more members of the crew of the British freighter Manaar, which survivors said was torpedoed.

The Portuguese destroyer Vouga and military planes from Bomussuco continued a search for one lifeboat still missing. All but 17 of the crew of 88 have been accounted for.

(At Liverpool, owners of the Manaar said only four remained missing after 46 were rescued).

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE (CP) — A message received here from Capt. J. Stone Thompson of the British steamship Pukkastan said:

"Sunk. All's well."
The Pukkastan is a 5,800-ton ship owned by the Hindustan Steam Shipping Company.

LISBON (CP-Havas) — The Diario de Lisboa reported today a wireless message had been picked up at Oporto from the British steamship Defender stating the vessel had been attacked by an unidentified submarine. A torpedo was said to have passed in front of the bow. The ship was reported continuing to Britain.

BOSTON (AP) — An unidentified submarine was sighted today by the crew of the Pollock Rip lightship, which guards the westerly approach to Nantucket Sound, coastguard headquarters at Boston reported.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The 8,000-ton German steamship Vegesack struck the rocks at Jaeren, on Norway's southernmost point, and was wrecked today. The crew of 64 men was saved.

—which were now exposed on the altar of war.

"I cannot find words to express my admiration for England in the stand she is again making for freedom," said Mr. King, "and for France in the stand she is again making in defence of her liberties and the liberties of the world."

Before deciding on the question before Parliament the Prime Minister asked members to recall where Canadian liberties came from. They came from "those men in England and France who never hesitated to lay down their lives when freedom was threatened."

DUKE GOES HOME, TAKES DUCHESS

CANNES, France (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor left for England tonight.

They left at 5:45 p.m. for Paris en route to an undisclosed English Channel port. There they were scheduled to board a destroyer and be rushed to London.

The Duke is to assume an important war post.

Plans were completed Wednesday when a messenger from King George flew from London and conferred with the Duke at his Chateau on the French Riviera.

To Reopen Movies

LONDON (CP) — Motion picture theatres in comparatively safe areas of England will be permitted to reopen from tomorrow for the first time since Sunday's declaration of war, officials declared today. Closing hours will be fixed at not later than 10 p.m.

6,000 SPIES

LONDON — In the greatest spy roundup in history, Scotland Yard men working with naval and military intelligence officers have apprehended 6,000 spy suspects. They will be locked up for the duration of the war, deported, or court-martialed.

Exemptions In Militia Class

OTTAWA (CP)—Provision for exemption from military service for any person employed in the "essential services" is made in an order-in-council tabled in the Commons today. The exemptions apply to members of voluntary nonpermanent forces whose civilian jobs are in the "essential services." The exemptions except them from mobilization.

Preamble of the order says that the Minister of Transport, Hon. C. D. Howe, listed these essential services as follows: The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the National Harbours Board, the Canadian National Steamships (West Indies), the Trans-Canada Air Line, all railway companies and telegraph companies.

The preamble continues that in order to carry on these essential services it is expedient to exempt their employees in such cases where the Minister of Transport is satisfied that their services should be so retained.

Japanese Release British Officer

PEIPING (AP)—Col. C. R. Spear, British military attaché to China, who had been detained by the Japanese since May 25 on an accusation of anti-Japanese espionage in northwest China, was released today.

He had been brought to Peiping from Kalgan and kept since Wednesday under military guard at the Japanese barracks here. He appeared to be in good health and spirits.

260 Volunteer For Death Corps

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Pericard, who launched the newspaper suggestion that a "volunteers of death" corps should be formed, said he received 260 applications. They were from unmobilized men between 16 and 66, and some from women, all writing they want to undertake perilous duties to save the loss of able-bodied French infantrymen.

A vitriolic little Italian who is forming the Garibaldi Volunteers proudly displays the red shirts all good Garibaldians are supposed to wear into battle. He says he now has 4,000 applicants—Hungarians, Spaniards and Germans included.

Gestapo Seize Anti-Nazi Laborites

BERLIN (AP)—Reliable sources disclosed today the German Gestapo—secret police—was making numerous "protective" arrests of former Socialists and trade union chiefs.

The arrests were taken to indicate men and women who have expressed dissatisfaction with the Nazi government in the past must be segregated as a precaution against industrial or other economic sabotage or cleavage within the nation.

Most of those arrested were described as permanent Socialist party leaders and workers in Germany before Adolf Hitler's rise to power. Some had been held in concentration camps for a time after 1933.

Reliable sources said increasing numbers were being arrested, but that it was impossible to estimate the total.

'Larger Operations' Hinted By Britain

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE

Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON—British planes already have joined French aircraft in battering German munitions plants north of the Saar Valley and longer hops across Germany to help the Poles on the eastern front are expected as operations expand. The French army, meanwhile, is seeking to penetrate the deeper ramparts of the Siegfried Line by following up early successes against its outposts.

The British government announced consolidation into a unified army force of its regular army, territorial army, conscripted militia and auxiliary units. Manpower is assured through a law providing conscription of men from 18 to 41 years old.

The British navy has clamped down a blockade against German shipping and the Royal Air Force has been bombing Germany's warships. The government announced the sinking of a number of German merchantmen, and attacks on submarines.

The Ministry of Information hinted today at larger operations than actually disclosed, in a communique asserting that simply because "no news is published it must not be assumed that no successes have been achieved."

On the heels of three propaganda raids, in which British planes distributed millions of leaflets over Germany condemning the Nazi regime and urging the people to "get rid of Hitler," Britain's new Ministry of Economic Warfare disclosed it immediately would begin operations similar to those of the World War Ministry of Blockade. The announcement said "economic warfare must be regarded as a vital offensive arm."

Among the preparations for a long campaign are the national registration law, air raid precautions on a highly organized scale, measures to conserve foreign exchange for war purchases and to concentrate foreign resources and a ban on export of 500 articles such as metals, drugs and foods.

Formation of a Minister of Home Security was disclosed. Britain and France arranged to give additional financial aid to Poland through a cash loan of $8,500,000 (approximately $34,000,000). The two countries already have granted Poland $10,700,000 credit.

Several newspapers sharply criticized the newly formed Ministry of Information for slowness in issuing a communique about the air raid warnings that sent Londoners to cover for the third time since the war began.

After a day of rumors and one preliminary communique seven hours after the warning, the ministry announced it was caused by a German reconnaissance flight off the east coast of England that turned back without "making contact" with British defence forces.

Anti-aircraft gunfire around London, the ministry added in its final communique, was caused when defense batteries mistook returning English planes for enemy raiders and fired at them.

Said the Liberal News Chronicle:

"Such delay (in announcements) should be avoided. It is bad for the morale of the country. . . . Lord MacMillan, the new minister of information, obviously will find some urgent problems awaiting his attention. We hope he will give swift and convincing proof he is the right man to deal with them."

The Daily Express urged: "Give the public a prompt and adequate account of what has happened consistent with the public interest and there will be no soil for rumors to sprout in."

RIGA, Latvia—Although the former Free City of Danzig has been reunited with the German Reich since last Friday, artillery fire still was echoing through the city's streets when I left there.

NO FREE TRAVEL

Under strict supervision by the German army, Gestapo (secret police) and civilian authorities, complete censorship and rationing of foodstuffs and other necessities have been put into effect; free travel is prohibited, with foreigners needing the Gestapo's sanction before being able to leave, and export and import business is at a standstill.

All this, combined with the Polish stand at Westerplatte, has tended to take the edge off the enthusiasm with which Danzigers hailed Albert Forster's announcement of their return to the Reich last Friday.

Although the nearby seashore resort of Zoppot was bombarded with the loss of a few lives, according to German reports, Danzig itself had not been under fire. POSTOFFICE SET AFIRE

Still the city showed many signs of the war. A prolonged battle for the Polish postoffice on Friday ended with the attackers setting fire to the building. About 20 Poles were reported to have lost their lives in the fire, while some 40 were captured.

German troops have occupied all Polish banks and business houses. Many Polish prisoners have been marched through the streets. Marjona Chodacki, Polish commissioner to Danzig, is reported held in the city under protective arrest.

Visitors to Britain Must Register

LONDON (CP)—Under regulations which went into effect today all persons, including British subjects, registering at British hotels must fill out questionnaires, giving their nationality, address in Great Britain, destination if traveling, passport number and other information. Those failing to do this, or giving false information, will be liable to a fine of £100 (about $400) or imprisonment for six months.

Prize Court On Ship Seizures

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Information tonight announced the British government will use its right as a belligerent to prevent war contraband reaching the enemy.

The ministry said the exercise of belligerent rights on the high seas did not constitute, properly speaking, a "blockade."

Ships of all nationalities will be subject to examination. In cases where seizures are made in ports of inspection, when ships are anchored there, or in cases where the seizures are made on the high seas under circumstances in which the ships try to elude examination, a prize court will be called upon to decide the dispute.

West Wheat Crop Best Since 1928

WINNIPEG—Western Canada's 1939 wheat crop is estimated at 451,672,170 bushels in the final crop report of the Winnipeg Free Press, issued today. The yield, if it is realized, will bulge western bins with the greatest harvest since 1928 when 566,000,000 bushels were taken from prairie farms.

Despite torrid temperatures of July, which brought the belief that wheat would not fill, the report added, sufficient threshing has been completed to show that damage in most districts was not nearly as severe as had been feared.

In Manitoba, where a yield of 18.6 bushels to the acre is estimated, a total of more than 59,000,000 bushels is forecast. The expected yield would give the province its highest total since the disastrous rust epidemic of 1916.

With an average yield of 16.5 bushels an acre on a large acreage, Saskatchewan is expected to harvest 238,000,000 bushels of wheat.

TO EVACUATE SCOTS

LONDON (CP)—The information ministry announced today that Lieut.-Col. John Colville, Secretary of State for Scotland, is in Scotland on an official mission connected with supervising execution of government plans for evacuating thickly-populated centres.

Polish Military Shrine Safe
While War Rages Around

UNHARMED—Germans captured Czestochowa, railway centre in Upper Silesia with its monastery (above), a famous shrine visited annually by thousands of pilgrims. In it hangs the supposedly miraculous picture of the "Black Madonna" who, according to legend, appeared in the sky over the fortified church when it was besieged by a Swedish army.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

Associated Press Foreign Staff
With the German Army of the East—I flew in a military plane to Opatow, and thence traveled under military escort across the Polish border to Czestochowa.

I saw the famous Black Madonna in Jasna Gora Monastery in Czestochowa. The monastery and cathedral have not been harmed.

In an interview Father Norbert Motylewski declared:

"The miracle-working image of the Czestochowa Virgin on the Jasna Gora (light-colored mountain) was not damaged in any way, nor has Jasna Gora suffered in any way."

As we entered the chapel we saw a huge crowd of Polish worshippers attending mass. Some—both men and women—lay prostrate, kissing the marble floor, their hands extended. Among them were many sobbing women.

My military escort and I had hardly left the chapel when the grim reality of war broke upon us. We heard intermittent shots. On the boulevard below, German anti-aircraft was set up in formidable numbers.

At a corner lay two dead horses—nobody had had time to remove. To the left of us a whole row of buildings showed broken—windows and bullet-riddled facades, while proceeding down the right side of the boulevard were about 30 Polish civilians closely guarded by steel-helmeted German soldiers, their rifles cocked. The Poles marched with their hands up.

These were the 30 arrested as sniping suspects.

No Night Life
In London Now

By J. C. STARK

Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON (AP)—The war has yet to reach London, but its effects already have changed completely the life of the millions of inhabitants of this world metropolis.

The effects on the average individual are not so great in the daytime as at night. Restaurants operate as usual and menus are the same as before. Traffic is heavy, taxicabs scarcer and transportation by bus or subway more uncertain.

But a real change comes at night. Many go to work earlier so they can go home earlier at night—in time to blackout their houses.

Restaurants at night in London are almost deserted. There is no night life. Theatres are closed. There is little to talk about, except when the bombings are going to start, what the military strategy is behind this or that move, or the apparent absence of a move. Radio offers music and official announcements.

The public generally takes the war calmly. One Englishman remarked people have settled down to a war routine comparable to the situation a year or two after the Great War began.

Since even a flash of light on the streets at night brings a stern police warning, the crowds that used to stroll through the West End have disappeared.

TO RATION GASOLINE

Driving at night in the dark is such a slow, nerve-racking business that taking a spin after work is unthinkable. Besides, gasoline shortly will be rationed.

Unless your friends live nearby, you can't expect them to drop in, because transportation is curtailed.

Even in the daytime the city has lost many of its attractions. Shopwindows are boarded up and most stores have earlier closing hours. A few have closed down altogether.

There have been some advantages. Normally reticent, Englishmen have started talking to one another without formal introduction.

You can ask a stranger where he bought that gas mask container without being cut dead. Neighbors who had never bothered to speak before get chummy after running for the same air raid shelter.

Men whose wives have left the city areas find loneliness stronger than traditions of reserve. One left a note on his front gate inviting other "war widowers" to drop in and share his home-cooked dinner.

Roosevelt Orders
Credits Continued

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt issued a regulation yesterday making possible the continuance of ordinary commercial credits and short-time obligations to belligerents. The President specified that these credits and obligations must be "in aid of legal transactions and of a character customarily used in normal peace-time commercial transactions."

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau was authorized to administer the provisions of the order and to promulgate rules and regulations necessary for carrying them out.

The President cited section 3 of the Neutrality Act which prohibits loans to belligerents but makes an exception of the credits and obligations mentioned, if the President so desires.

First Canadian War
Vote Over $16,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Use of Governor-General's warrants to cover expenditures of $16,450,000 involved in preparations for defence of Canada and wartime emergency measures was reported in 36 orders-in-council tabled by Prime Minister MacKenzie King in the House of Commons yesterday.

Other orders had to do with internment of enemy aliens, appointment of the commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as registrar-general for enemy aliens, and the numerous steps of an emergency character associated with calling up defence forces which already have been announced.

Following is a detail of the expenditures under Governor-General's warrants: $8,918,930 expenditures for naval service, militia service and air service; $1,453,000 covering 30 days' transportation and rations for the militia personnel; $150,000 for air raid precautions; $536,000 to cover cost of transporting air force units to the east coast and 30 days' training of the auxiliary air force; $5,345,590 to bring the permanent active air force to full peace establishment; $50,000 to cover employment of civilian personnel for emergency duty.

Chief appropriation in the vote for fighting services was $7,500,000 for the air services, including $6,000,000 to purchase airplanes. The appropriation for the forms required for documentation of personnel in the event of mobilization was $100,000.

LIMIT OF PROFITS
WAIVED

A separate order-in-council provided limitations imposed by the Defence Purchases, Profits Control, and Finance Act, 1939, be not applied to expenditure of the $7,500,000 for the air services.

In the order-in-council it is stated the defence minister, Hon. Ian MacKenzie, said the purchases contemplated could not be carried out if the act were to be applied.

AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS

The appropriation of $150,000 provides for preliminary steps in taking necessary emergency precautions to guard against air raids in the centres in Canada considered most vulnerable at the moment.

Air raid precautions have been designated as a responsibility of the Department of Pensions and National Health.

For the purchase of 6,000 units of suitable clothing for emergency working parties, $72,000 is included. For 6,000 civilian duty respirators, $12,000 is provided, for the printing and distribution of literature on air raid precautions, the estimate is $20,000. Provision for other expenses is made as follows:

Grants to the St. John Ambulance Association for training instructors in first aid and air raid precautions, $5,000.

Motion picture talking films for instructing such classes, $1,000.

For the purchase of fire protection apparatus, $20,000.

No South Africans
For Overseas

CAPETOWN (CP-Reuters)—The Union of South Africa yesterday joined Great Britain in war with Germany.

A proclamation declaring that peaceful relations with Germany have been severed and that "the Union is at war with the Reich as of September 6," was issued shortly after the government of General Jan Smuts was sworn in.

In a statement of policy issued at the same time, the new Prime Minister said the Union Assembly had decided to take a stand for defence of freedom and pledged "our moral support for the common cause."

The statement said that participation, however, must "be limited by considerations of geography and special conditions which attach to this country and at this stage the government cannot give any encouragement to those citizens who wish to serve overseas."

Southwest Africa
Automatically at War

LONDON (CP)—A Reuter dispatch from Pretoria said it was learned on the highest authority that Southwest Africa, British mandated territory, was regarded automatically at war with Germany following the declaration by the Union of South Africa.

The territory originally was annexed by Germany in 1884 but was surrendered to the union forces in 1915. Approximately one-third of its 30,000 European population are German-speaking people.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1939

The Right Man

FORTUNATELY FOR CANADA, PRIME Minister Mackenzie King has been able to persuade Colonel J. L. Ralston to take charge of the national treasury, recently administered by Hon. C. A. Dunning, whose ill health removed from public life for the time being one of the ablest Ministers of Finance this country has ever had.

Colonel Ralston, an outstanding Canadian lawyer, began his parliamentary apprenticeship in the Nova Scotia Legislature nearly 30 years ago, served with distinction in the Great War, and was Minister of Defence in the King government which met defeat at the polls in 1930. Besides his association with the legal profession and he leaves an extremely lucrative practice—Col. Ralston has for several years been connected with industrial and financial affairs.

Ministers of Finance in the last decade have had more than their share of the Dominion's problems. If Mr. Dunning could have said "yes" to every demand made on the treasury he might have been enjoying life in fuller measure today. But he was far from an easy mark for those elements which instantly run hat in hand to governments on the birth of every crazy idea. And he could always use a vigorous "no" instead of the ambiguously postponed negative.

Col. Ralston, who, by the way, has no seat, has known Mr. King intimately for many years, and understands the necessity of a financial policy for Canada at this stage of her history that not only will fit the requirements of the immediate future, but also take due cognizance of the fact that the bill for the Dominion's share in the last war is still on file—unrecipitated. Knowing his man, his particular equipment for the post to which he has called him, Mr. King has made an excellent choice.

Apart from a financial policy commensurate with the Dominion's war contribution under many heads—and we know from experience what war expenditure means—Col. Ralston can be depended upon to prevent unnecessary economic overlapping and duplication.

More Word Bombs

CITIES AND TOWNS—IN NORTHERN Germany today "suffered" an intensive "bombardment" from planes of the Royal Air Force. But neither smoke nor explosion disturbed the inhabitants. It was merely a continuation of Britain's propaganda war—another "note" to the German people. The "circulation" this time was 3,500,000 copies. If half of them were read, and that is not unlikely, this latest raid under the auspices of the British Ministry of Information was well worth while.

We are living in an age of streamlined publicity in which advertising experts are resorting to every kind of legitimate argument that will lend itself to effective verbal and intriguing pictorial reproduction. What the manufacturer and the merchant have found profitable, the nation should find profitable. John Bull shocked himself pleasantly with his excursion into the governmental advertising field when Kitchener wanted more men and the wartime Chancellor of the Exchequer wanted more money. It simply had not been done before; but advertising expert Charles Higham (created a knight for his services and who died a few months ago) convinced the government of that day that it would pay. It did. Early in 1918 Lord Northcliffe persuaded Prime Minister Lloyd George that the people in enemy countries should be intensively propagandized. And the printed word, the fair argument, did much to bring about the collapse of Austria-Hungary's campaign.

There is a good deal the British government can tell the German people. It can reiterate the elementary but all-important fact that this war has been produced by the "senseless ambitions" of the man who controls almost every visible action of every citizen of the Reich—youth and old, male and female. The truth can be brought home to them that Great Britain and France, and other countries which eventually will take the field if necessary, will fight until the last vestige of Hitlerism has vanished from the earth. The German people can be assured also that the sooner they begin to play a part on the "home front" which will cause their tyrannical ruler furiously to think, the sooner will it be possible to restore the Reich to a state of lasting peace and progress.

Wear On Guns and Morale

WHILE THERE IS EVERY INDICATION that British and French strategists on the western front are taking matters carefully and slowly, recognizing that the element of time is substantially in their favor, the suggestion again comes from experienced commentators that Germany's "ersatz" materials which have gone into the production of arms and defence works will not stand up successfully through a long period of constant use. We are reminded that many of the Reich's guns of large and small calibre are made of scrap metal which, while satisfactory for use in the lightning war which Hitler had planned and expected, may give out under heavy and long strain. It is natural, of course, to indulge in wishful thinking; but all the world knows that if length of preparation, with the choice of the finest materials in unlimited quantities, means anything at all, the strength of the Maginot Line which France began to build soon after the Great War should be far superior to the more or less hurried Siegfried Line. Only since the Munich affair, indeed, have Germany's frontier fortifications been considered ready for practical use.

It is altogether too early to dig very deeply for our encouragement into speculations on the quality of Germany's armament in general. But if, as we have been informed by competent observers on the spot, any substantial proportion of the German people had really believed Britain and France would not fight, the psychological effect it should be possible to bring to bear on the nation's morale by the use of "notes" might soon produce much more serious internal consequences than constant firing of guns and cannon of doubtful lasting quality.

Mayfair and Limehouse

THERE WILL BE NO COMPLAINTS IF some of the garrulous United States correspondents in London are able to dig up a little humor as they come into contact with usually undemonstrative Britons. War changes the individual's general demeanor—and particularly that of the citizen of the British Isles. It is most annoying to millions over there that Hitler had to choose the beginning of the football season to stage his "lightning" war on Poland. And what are other millions going to do o' nights now theatres, movies and dog racing tracks are "blacked out"? But, as they will say philosophically, such is war.

Bomb shelters, of course, will break down many of the formalities which were restored after the last war had thawed the social ice considerably. Mayfair in dressing gown and slippers will not be able to rub shoulders with Limehouse's cap and muffer without the grin which recognizes common necessity, community of interest, and self-preservation. It will be quite in order for "Arry to ask Marmaduke: "An' 'ow's the missus?" without formal introduction.

Which reminds us that not the least potent agency in the ultimate undoing of the Third Reich's Adolf will be Anglo-Saxonism's sense of humor. Throughout the last war Punch did not permit its magnificent service to the main and subsidiary good causes to take up more of its space than the national interest appeared to demand. In both word and picture it continued to preach the "stiff upper lip" philosophy—and every issue produced millions of laughs.

Serves Her Right

ONE IMPORTANT AND UNCOMFORTABLE fact seems to be worrying the Japan Advertiser: Nippon's tourist trade has fallen off by no less than 60 per cent since 1937. It informs us that only 28,072 foreigners visited the country last year and the outlook for this year is anything but encouraging. As the bulk of visitors to Japan in the past have been from British countries and the United States, Japanese surprise is difficult to understand. The first requirement of a tourist is a friendly atmosphere, and that is just what British and American visitors will not find in Japan today.

One of the troubles in dealing with Hitler may have been that one can't talk turkey to a vegetarian.

Carole Lombard suggests appendectomies for dictators bothered with illusions. Others feel decapitation might better cure dictatorial headaches.

A professor advises writing poetry as a cure for war emotionalism. Except that you would probably get really sick when you read it over.

The Nazis tore down a house where Beethoven lived to make way for Adolf Hitler Platz. What that man won't do for "living space."

Carrying On

From Vancouver Sun

There is no use fooling ourselves about this war. Some of the days ahead may be black. There will be defeats as well as victories, as there always have been. There will be tragedy for some, sorrow for all. But life is going on in this country much as it has always gone on and, indeed, it is quite possible that under the stimulus of war industry we shall see, in a business sense, better times than we have known since 1929, once the war industries get well under way. There is no room for fear or hoarding in Canada.

In Europe today cities are being bombed, women and children mangled, but nowhere is there a break in the people's morale. They can "take it." Here we are safe, living in one of the best places in the world. Here, as President Roosevelt said during the panic of 1933,—we have nothing to fear but fear. Fear today, causing us to abandon our normal way of life; fear drying up the channels of business; fear putting our men out of jobs—fear can undermine the whole war effort.

The patriotic man and woman will pay taxes and contribute to war charities when he is asked to. Meanwhile he can do nothing more useful for his country and for his country's cause than to maintain his normal way of life, to keep his money moving, to keep his fellow men and himself at work. The war of nerves is not over yet. Steady nerves from now on will win it.

Thoughts

My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away.—Job 6:15.

Deceivers are the most dangerous members of society—they trifle with the best affections of our nature, and violate the most sacred obligations.—Crabbe.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

STORM IN MUNICH

WE WERE STANDING across the street from Hitler's Brown House when the storm broke, with thunder and lightning and drenching rain. In a moment everybody in the streets of Munich was wet and the holiday crowds fled into doorways or under trees along the street. We managed to cower under a linden tree, which held out some of the rain. Across the street in front of the Brown House, and nearby in the huge stone courtyard where the first Nazi gangsters lie buried as heroes, the sentries stood motionless and stolid in their black uniforms, soaked to the skin, as if they could feel and know nothing.

Then we became aware that our linden tree had attracted another refugee. He was a little man with a wizened, worried face, and his thin clothes were wrapped tightly about him by now like a wet bathing suit. He hunched his shoulders, as if that would keep the rain off, and hugged his chest, while his teeth chattered.

The rain began to slacken off and the sun tried to steal out. The little man seemed to notice us then for the first time. "Americans, eh?" he said in good English but with a German accent. "Canadians," we said. And, surprisingly enough, he said: "Toronto, eh?" We hastened to correct him, feeling a little hurt. "Victoria," we said. "Yeah," he said, "that's part of Vancouver, isn't it? I once was in Bellingham."

The German crowds had begun to sneak out of the doorways and hurry down the wet streets to their homes. The sentries still stood motionless at Hitler's doorway, the rain dripping from their iron helmets. The little man looked about hurriedly to make sure no one heard him.

"This is a hell of a place," he said under his breath, and talking out of the side of his mouth. "Wish to God I could get back to Philly. Used to have a cigar store in Philly. Maybe you've seen it—Deitz and Son. We did fine, too. Then I came back home here. I had my stake and figured I could live on it here, cheap. Now look at me!"

HE'S CRAZY

HE LOOKED UP AND DOWN the street again and around behind him to see that we were still out of anyone's hearing. "Listen!" he said with sudden ferocity, and poked his finger for emphasis into my chest. "You know what's happenin' in this country? I'm a German, see, born here, but I lived in Philly 20 years and I know what I'm talking about. I tell you what's happenin', brother—this man (he nodded across the street), he's crazy, see, he's nuts, that's all! I tell you he'll ruin the country. I tell you he'll start a war, sure, and you won't keep the States out of it. Sure, crazy and mean into the bargain! I'm tellin' you, brother."

Some German tourists passed, dripping, and the little man became silent until they had gone down the street. He turned down his collar and prepared to leave. "Well, so-long, folks," he said. "My name's Deitz. I wish to God I was back in Philly!"

We never saw him again and I never thought of him until this week. Then I wondered what had happened to Mr. Deitz, formerly of Philadelphia, now of Munich, who told me under a linden tree across the street from Hitler's Brown House that Hitler was crazy and mean into the bargain.

HOW MANY MORE?

MR. DEITZ is of no importance alone, but I wonder how many other people there are like him in Germany. How many who feel secretly that Hitler is crazy and mean into the bargain. Nobody really knows. Still, nobody who has toured Germany in the last two years can believe that there is any widespread hatred of Hitler, because most Germans have not seen the outside world. They have missed the educational opportunities of a cigar store in Philadelphia. I suppose there must be many others like Mr. Deitz, but few with courage to tell anybody, even a Canadian in a rainstorm.

Anyway, Mr. Deitz is very vivid in my mind this week. When you have talked with these people, when you can remember their faces, voices and manner, the war, even at this distance, becomes something like a reality to you.

To most of us Germany is a place on the map, a problem, a collection of statistics, a vague mass with no single feature of it plain. You have to go there to realize that these people are human beings, each different despite Hitler's regimentation, each with a house, a family, with hopes and fears.

BOYS AND GIRLS

THOSE TANNED YOUNGSTERS in their short leather pants and Tyrol coats, boys and girls who had been hiking through the mountains and were sitting now in the little inn, singing their German songs—they were human beings before they were units in the German machine. And the fat old innkeeper at Biberach who could talk no English and conversed with us in French worse than ours—that whiskered old lad, full of beer and sausages, he was a simple, genial human being, knowing no more of National Socialism than he knew of English. And the crowds of peasants who came into town that night, wearing long ribbons in their felt hats, and danced in the park with the girls to a band that played mechanically like an old-fashioned music box—what has happened to them in this universal storm?

And there was a mild little man, with a beautiful red beard, who stood beside us watching the marvelous town clock of Munich, on which life-sized mechanical knights in armor joust and iron dancers leap about the clock tower. "Clever, isn't it?" he said in perfect English. "We know how to

A New Page In History

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

IT SEEMS TO ME that there is hardly any place for comment on or interpretation of the Fateful Declaration. From hour to hour during these days of tension and of strain, we have followed the events toward the climax last Sunday, which, since Friday, when the German Army attacked Poland by land and air, has seemed to be inevitable.

We, like all the other people in the world, regardless of governments, have hoped and prayed that another way out might be found for the tragic dilemma of Europe.

Sunday morning, September 3, 1939, we heard a voice—not a young voice—an old voice, a tired voice and a sad voice, declare that he had done what he could to keep the peace; that he thought he had done everything possible; he had asked the German government to withdraw its troops and open negotiations, but his two notes, the last with a time limit, had brought no answer.

SO EUROPE IS AT WAR

All attempts at this moment to discuss the principles and elements and changes of front in this conflict seem out of place. But they will be discussed in the course of time, for facts are always related to principles and have little reality except in relation to them.

This much is certain. A new page starts today in the history of the world. But over and above, and more important, I think, than any position toward Europe which we may take today, is the attitude that we take toward ourselves.

Developments are sure to be rapid. They will move with lightning swiftness. No human mind can foresee the course of the next weeks and months. Forces have started that will take on a life of their own and assume unpredictable shapes.

WHATEVER THIS WAR may turn out to be, it did not come about because people did not have enough to eat. It started not with hunger, but with "ideologies." Just what those "ideologies" that inflamed great nations of men really amount to as principles and ideas we have seen this last week, when all of them were thrown into the waste-paper basket. They have all added up to mutual repudiation, to aggression, to war, to turning this world of fields and gardens and beautiful cities and cathedrals and pictures—all the things that men have created out of imagination and organization and labor, into an exploding hell.

WE HAVE HEARD nations take pledges not to resort to the bombing of open towns or the use of poison gas. But there are poisons more subtle and they cross all borders into all countries, neutral or un-neutral. They are the mental poisons that sow hatred between classes of men and between races of men. These poisons have preceded this war, and these poisons are an integral part of this war.

First they came, and after them came civil strife and social chaos; and after the chaos came dictatorship and war.

BURIAL AT SEA

To the Editor:—I beg through your columns sincerely to thank the commander, officers and other ranks of H.M.C.S. Restigouche for the very kind way they received my son and myself during the burial at sea of my nephew, Seaman Frederick R. Nichols, on August 17.

The news of my nephew's sudden death was a shock to all who knew him, and we had looked forward to having him with us for awhile after his recent illness and operation, but in such times as we know and feel that the path of duty through a path of sacrifice must be trod by every true patriot.

The impressive ceremony in the Gulf will live in our memories, and our gratitude to those who felt with us will remain always.

(MRS.) AGNES NELSON.

WHAT A MAN DOESN'T KNOW From McCune, Kansas, Herald—Somebody is always trying to tell us about the hidden taxes. Why bring that up? The taxes that are out in the open are enough to worry about.

MIRACLE?

From Stratford Beacon-Herald—Incredible as it may seem, a messenger boy was overtaken recently by a bolt of lightning while on an errand.

make things here. You're Canadians? I overheard you talking. Ah, Canada! I liked it there." He looked at us and smiled sadly behind his red beard. "It's too bad, isn't it?" he said. "Yes, it's too bad."

He moved away into the crowd and was lost. I wonder how many more are lost in the crowd who think that the whole thing is too bad.

TRIBUTE TO A HEROINE

(From New York Post)

To that great and immortal company of heroic women—women such as Joan of Arc and Molly Pitcher—we nominate Anna Kopecka, a Czech nurse.

Hitler's men called her a liar. She was.

She confessed, falsely of course, to that murder of a German sergeant which brought Hitler's wrath and vengeance upon the whole Czech people. She confessed to spare from persecution and suffering the people of the village of Kladno, where the sergeant was killed.

Amid the international repercussions of the Czech incident and the "counter murder" of a Czech policeman, the role of Anna Kopecka was insufficiently understood in America. Yet it is just such unquenchable courage and martyrdom which all the might of Hitler is powerless to combat, just as Gandhi, in India, by his very physical helplessness could successfully challenge the might of the British Empire.

Anna Kopecka, in the tradition of other heroic women, was willing to pay with her life to save her village from the terror she knew could be expected from Hitler. It was not her fault she made the sacrifice in vain; that the fearsome Gestapo is in control not only of Kladno but all Czechia, while she is either dead or in a dungeon. In the years to come, however, beneath the surface of Nazi domination, the name of Anna Kopecka will be an inspiration to the Czech people who fought centuries for their last liberation and who never have been known to stop fighting for that goal.

Official release of this story by the German Propaganda Ministry—as "evidence of the untrustworthiness of the Czechs"—constitutes an amazing monument to the stupidity of the Nazis, a confession of their utter inability to understand the distinction between a hero and a brute.

HIS RETORT

From Countryman (England)

An English lady, self-appointed supervisor of village morals, accused a workman of having reverted to drink because "with her own eyes" she had seen his wheelbarrow standing outside a public house. The accused man made no verbal defence, but the same evening he placed his wheelbarrow outside her door and left it there all night.

"IN OLD VIENNA" NOW

From Winnipeg Tribune

For the pre-war generation when musical comedy was in its heyday "The Merry Widow" epitomizes gaiety, the waltz and Vienna. Even today the musical comedy lives again whenever the "Merry Widow Waltz" or "Vilva" is heard.

"The Merry Widow" brought Franz Lehar world fame. Born in Hungary, getting his musical education in Prague, Lehar made Vienna his spiritual home. In turn it was indebted to him because he enshrined its carefree spirit in song.

Today Lehar still lives in Vienna, now part of Nazi Germany. At 69 he has been refused permission to leave the country for a visit to the United States. Like old Vienna, Lehar is a prisoner of the new regime.

Weddings

MUIRHEAD-CLARKE

Standard baskets of pink gladioli and asters decorated St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, for the pretty wedding on Wednesday evening at 8.30, which united in marriage Freda Winnifred, daughter of Mr. S. W. Clarke, Britannia Beach, and Mrs. E. L. Clarke, Abbey Apartments, Quadra Street, Victoria, and Mr. Richard Hamilton Muirhead of Victoria, son of Mr. J. McL. Muirhead of Harwood Street, Vancouver, and the late Mrs. Muirhead.

Rev. T. H. McAllister read the service and Mrs. Denton played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Margaret Johnston, who sang the solo "Because" as the register was being signed.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Lynn Foss, the bride wore a graceful floor-length frock of dusky rose chiffon over taffeta, with very full skirt and a bolero jacket. Her small flowered hat was finished with a matching shoulder-length veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses, showered with sweet-heart roses and streamers.

Mrs. Lynn Foss, sister of the bride, was matron of honor in a pretty floor-length gown of forget-me-not blue chiffon over taffeta, with a small flowered hat with matching veil, and accessories in forget-me-not blue. Mr. Hugh McKenzie supported the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received the guests in a floor-length gown of French blue lace, with large black hat and black fur-shoulder cape, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

Refreshments were served from a table centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and arranged with shell pink gladioli and matching tapers. Rev. T. H. McAllister proposed the toast to the bride. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. J. McL. Muirhead and Miss Eleanor Muirhead of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Muirhead left on the midnight boat for Vancouver to motor on the mainland, the bride travelling in a three-piece ensemble in moss green, with a black travel coat and hat and accessories to match, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansonia. On their return they will reside at Cochrane Street, Lansdowne Heights, Victoria.

HIPWOOD-HUNDLEY

In the presence of immediate friends on Sunday, September 3, Rev. James Hood officiated at the marriage of Kathleen Dora, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hundley of 1745 Davie Street to Herbert Edward Hipwood, who is an N.C.O. in the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, stationed at Work Point Barracks.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. She was given in marriage by her father. Miss Mona Emery was the only bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by Mr. Roy Hundley, eldest brother of the bride.

On Tuesday evening at 8.30 over 50 of the friends and well-wishers of the young couple gathered at the home of the bride for the reception and were received by Mrs. Elsie Hundley and Mrs. H. E. Hipwood, mother of the bridegroom. The rooms had been tastefully decorated by young friends of the couple.

A large number of useful presents were received, including a case of gardenia pattern silverware from employees of David Spencer Ltd., where the bride has been employed for the past six years.

RENNIE-WATERMAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening at 8, in First United Church, when Rev. Hugh A. McLeod united in marriage Kathleen Sheila, only daughter of Mrs. H. A. Waterman, 591 St. Patrick Street, and the late Mr. E. Waterman, and Mr. John L. Rennie, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rennie, 2064 Quimper Street.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Kenneth Waterman, wore a burgundy afternoon dress with matching halo hat and accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias and swansonia. The bridesmaid, Miss Lorna Cox, wore an orchid shade afternoon dress with navy blue accessories, and her corsage bouquet consisted of salmon pink carnations. The groom, who is a member of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, was in uniform, and was supported by his brother, Mr. Gordon G. Rennie.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the rooms were decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers. The bride and groom received their friends beneath a decorated wedding bell, from which fell streamers. They were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother, who wore a rust-colored frock with brown accessories, and corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Owing to the absence of the groom's mother, who is abroad, Miss G. Rennie of Vancouver assisted in receiving. She wore a dress of cherry red crepe with black accessories, and her corsage bouquet was of white carnations. Mrs. Kenneth Waterman was in charge of the refreshments. The bride's cake stood on a small table flanked by silver vases of beehive dahlias.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Simpson of London, England, have arrived on St. Normandy, New York, en route to visit Dr. Simpson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Perrins at Bamber-ton, V.I.

NICHOLS-FITZGERALD

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — Sheila Margaret Fitzgerald, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John C. R. Fitzgerald of St. Catharines, was married here today to Thomas Edgar Nichols of Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nichols, Vancouver. Rev. H. A. Leake conducted the service in St. Barnabas Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Philip H. Sullivan, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, Richard G. Storms, Hamilton, attended the groom.

A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents.

ST. PAUL'S A.Y.P.A.

Miss Grace White, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. White, 1760 Lee Avenue, who left in July for England, where she is staying with relatives in London. Miss White, who is a native daughter of Victoria, was for four years music mistress at Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, and intended continuing her musical studies abroad. The outbreak of hostilities has probably changed her plans, and her parents are awaiting word from her.

Social and Personal

Mr. Christopher Harrison of Langford is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital his friends will be sorry to hear, suffering from two fractured ankles.

Mrs. A. N. Connorton and daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Graves, who have been visiting Mrs. L. Powers at Langford Lodge, have returned to their home in Vancouver.

Miss Edna O'Driscoll of Vancouver returned to the mainland yesterday afternoon after spending the last two weeks in Victoria with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. McQuade, Rockland Avenue.

Mrs. W. G. Colquhoun of Winnipeg, who has been spending the summer here, took up her residence at The Angela today. She expects to remain here for a few weeks longer before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fane Sewell of Toronto, who have been guests at The Angela, Burdett Avenue, for the last five weeks, left today for Vancouver, where they will spend a few days before proceeding east.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Simpson of London, England, have arrived on St. Normandy, New York, en route to visit Dr. Simpson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Perrins at Bamber-ton, V.I.

Miss Lois Hamlet of Royal Oak will leave on Sunday for the mainland on her way to Montreal, where at the Conservatory of Music at McGill University she will continue her studies in piano-forte.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Clarke, 148 Moss Street, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Phyllis Helen, to Mr. Robert Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Warren, 39 Cambridge Street. The wedding will take place shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Alsdorf, Langford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Iris, to Mr. Raymond Stevens, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stevens, Colwood. The wedding will take place next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in St. John's Church, Quadra Street.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Tyson entertained a number of guests at an "after-five" party this afternoon at their summer home at Cudboro Bay in compliment to Miss Myfanwy Spencer and Mr. Donald Campbell, brother of Mrs. Tyson, who are to be married quietly this month. Asters were used in decoration of the reception rooms, with zinnias in shades ranging from flame to copper, in the dining-room.

Mrs. Jack Child entertained at the home of her great-aunt, Mrs. E. G. Prior, St. Charles Street, this afternoon in honor of Miss Myfanwy Spencer, a September bride-to-be. Three tables of bridge were in play, additional guests coming in later for tea. Mrs. Keith Cooper and Mrs. Fred Norris presided at the attractively-appointed tea table, which was centred with asters in delicate coloring.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Campbell and children of Los Angeles, who have been spending the summer months in Victoria with Mrs. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Le Huquet, at Cudboro Bay, have returned to the south.

Princess Chikhmatoff and her son, Mr. Ian Ross, who have been on an extended cruise to the Scandinavian countries, sailed from England on August 31 for home. On arrival here she will reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart, at "Benvenuto," Tod Inlet.

In honor of the out-of-town guests at the Ardagh-Goddard wedding that took place yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Goddard of "Sea View Point," Sidney, a party was held yesterday evening when a number of Victorians motored out for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rowebottom and Mrs. Arthur Cree returned yesterday from Lillooet, where they were present at the ceremony of the unveiling of a cairn at Lillooet to mark Mile Zero on the old Cariboo Road. Dr. Kaye Lamb and Mrs. Lamb, who were also at the unveiling, are visiting in the Kootenay Valley before returning home.

Miss A. Burt was hostess recently at a linen shower in honor of Miss Jacqueline Burt, whose marriage to Mr. William Duncan will take place in the fall. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet and later with a daintily-decorated ship, in pink and white, which contained the many lovely gifts. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. G. Snider, Vancouver, who was also presented with a corsage bouquet and Mrs. M. Anderton. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver basket of mauve asters. Those present were: Miss Connie Cooke, Mrs. Traegar (Vancouver), Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. McCousland, Miss Muriel Branigan, Mrs. G. Snider, Miss J. Burt (Vancouver), Mrs. Grimes, Miss Ethel Grimes, Mrs. Branigan, Mrs. A. Denton, Mrs. Levings, Miss Lottie Anderton, Marguerite Anderton, Mrs. M. Anderton, Mrs. W. Burt, Miss Ada Burt, Mr. W. Burt, Willard Duncan (Vancouver), Mr. and Mrs. G. Burt (Vancouver), Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. Billocks, Mrs. Nicholson, Miss Jean Woolley and Mrs. Wratten.

Many friends of a recent bride attended a community miscellaneous shower in Luxton Hall Wednesday afternoon when the guest of honor was Mrs. Chas. D. Carnegie (nee Elsie Hutchison). An arch, gay with summer flowers, marked the place at the gaily decorated table for the bride, who was presented with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas by the president of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, Mrs. W. Henderson, and the good wishes of the assembled guests were conveyed to Mrs. Carnegie by Mrs. J. Trace. Many useful and beautiful gifts were presented to the bride. Montbretia, asters, marigolds and sweet peas adorned the tea tables, the decorations being the handiwork of Mrs. A. Hankin. The guests included Mesdames S. Hutchison, E. Shields, H. Parker, H. Baxter, A. Strathairn, C. Walker, J. Schryder, G. Duncan, R. Oliver, W. Henderson, A. Hankin, J. Betts, A. Rhode, J. McPhee, W. Whybrow, A. Hobbs, D. Flatman, J. Trace, H. A. Bailey, A. W. Silman and M. A. Morrow; the Misses Norma McLeod, Ethel Blenkinsopp, Adeline Rhode, Kathleen Oliver, Alys McLeod and Verna Rhode.

Mrs. E. L. Stringer and Miss Ruth Mullens were joint hostesses at a shower held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Mullens, Monteith Street, in honor of Miss Alice Ellis. Asters and snapdragons formed an attractive background in the living-room, while a silver basket of asters in the prevailing colors, with filmy folds of pink tulle and ribbon its base, made a centerpiece for the supper table. A corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations was presented to Miss Ellis, and many gifts were piled under a pink and white umbrella on a table. Mrs. N. Scafe and Misses Beverly Pearce and Marguerite Witton were the winners of games and contests. The guests were Mesdames J. A. Ellis, W. B. Ross, A. Mitchell, N. Scafe, M. McLeod, J. Gray, F. Stringer, E. Wilkinson, E. L. Stringer, B. Kerswell, C. H. Mullens, Misses Alice Ellis, Marguerite Witton, Ollie Ashdown, Eleanor Fulton, E. Morbey, Beverly Pearce, Agnes Stringer and Ruth Mullens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell, Linden Avenue, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Enid Amelia, to Mr. Hugh Carruthers Molyneux, Duncan, B.C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison, Atlin, B.C. The wedding will take place quietly on Saturday, September 16.

Mrs. R. B. McMicking To Be Honored On Birthday

Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E.
Plans Public
Function Sept. 15

Mrs. R. B. McMicking, one of Victoria's best-known pioneer citizens, will attain her 90th birthday on Friday, September 15, and to mark the occasion the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. will hold a public birthday party in her honor. Mrs. McMicking founded the chapter 27 years ago and was for many years its regent and is now its honorary regent.

To make suitable arrangements for the function, a committee consisting of Mrs. Bertha Parsons, Mrs. H. Goodfellow, Miss Georgina Herd and Mrs. G. W. Pottinger were appointed by the regent, Mrs. A. S. Christie, at the meeting of the chapter held yesterday afternoon at headquarters.

Reports of the garden tea in June and Heather Day last month were given, each netting a goodly sum, which will meet all obligations and leave a balance in hand to be used as emergencies arise.

GRANTS VOTED

The usual grants to the Sea Cadets and Girl Guides for the ensuing six months were voted by the chapter.

Letters of thanks for Heather sent on Heather Day were received from Mrs. E. W. Hamber and Mayor Andrew McGavin.

It was decided to send week-end papers to Mr. G. Fraser of Ucluelet as a small token of appreciation to him for sending Heather for many years past.

Miss Georgina Herd gave the treasurer's report and a letter from Pouce Coupe was read expressing thanks for the money sent there to help found a rest-room for the women.

The chapter will offer a membership to Miss Pillar in appreciation of the services so willingly rendered to the chapter on many occasions.

Chapter members were asked to start saving articles for a rummage sale which will be held later in the season. Mrs. A. M. Pillar gave an excellent report as standard bearer. Mrs. Richardson, who has been away from the meetings on account of illness for the past two years, was welcomed back by the regent.

The chapter paid silent tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Colin Cummins at the commencement of the meeting, the regent expressing the sympathy of all members to the bereaved family.

After the meeting tea was served by Mrs. A. Walter and Mrs. J. Skidmore, hostesses for the day.

Happy Valley

The opening meeting for the fall and winter term of the Happy Valley Parent-Teacher Association will be held September 14 at 8 in the school.

Seven new pupils have been enrolled at the Happy Valley school. At the opening a new teacher, J. Harry Downard, was welcomed by M. A. Morrow on behalf of the school board.

To Organize V.A.D. For War Work

St. John Ambulance
Makes Appeal to Certificate Holders

Memories of the splendid service rendered during the Great War by the V.A.D. (Voluntary Aid Detachment) are revived by the appeal made by the St. John Ambulance Association for holders of first aid and home nursing certificates to register with H. W. Edwards, local secretary, at the headquarters, Union Bank Building.

PLAN FOR EMERGENCY

Col. Leeson of Vancouver, head of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, and Dr. M. Thomas, M.O. of the 103rd Battalion, formed here early in the last war, were in Victoria recently, and conferred with Mrs. W. A. Thorn, divisional superintendent of the St. John Ambulance nursing division, and Mrs. Charles Wilson, officer sister of the St. John Ambulance Association.

A well-trained nucleus of 35 women is again available to carry on in any hospital or other emergency work during the present crisis. But further recruits are wanted from among those holding first aid and home-nursing certificates. All such are requested to register.

Several buildings have already been inspected, and two or three have been passed as suitable for conversion into temporary hospitals should the emergency arise.

CLASSES BEING STARTED

Registration for first aid and home nursing classes for women was continued by the Victoria Centre of the St. John Ambulance Association last night, resulting in the unusually heavy enrollment of 102 for the former and 25 for the latter. Further applications will be accepted on the opening of the classes next Tuesday and Wednesday, but not later, Ralph Moore, secretary, stated last night.

Owing to the heavy registration for first aid, three classes will be formed, meeting simultaneously under different instructors. Dr. T. W. A. Gray, in general charge, will appoint these instructors. Mrs. W. A. Thorn, who has charge of the practical instruction, will have assistance from nurses of No. 61, Victoria Nursing Division of St. John Ambulance Association.

VICTORIA LADY'S 10 YRS. STOMACH DISTRESS GONE ENDORSES MOSBY'S TONIC

Mrs. C. Birkett of Hillside Avenue Was Victim of Nervous Indigestion — Gas Pains — Couldn't Sleep — But Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Her and She Says: "I Feel Fine Again. It is a Splendid Medicine!"

MRS. C. BIRKETT, Popular and Widely-known Victoria Lady, Who Says: "MOSBY'S TONIC Made Me Feel Like New Again. I Gladly Endorse This Medicine After The Splendid Relief It Gave Me."

Seldom in history, say some of the Leading Druggists of this city, has any medicine been so widely endorsed as has MOSBY'S TONIC. This is a New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents, now being introduced to crowds daily here in Victoria at The Vancouver Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Streets, by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man. All over Victoria and throughout Canada, people are praising this Splendid Compound and are saying, "I never SAW anything like Mosby's Tonic. It certainly gave me relief and I want others to know it!" For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. C. Birkett of 915 Hillside Avenue, Victoria, made the following statement. Mrs. Birkett is widely acquainted in this city. She has lived here 19 years and is the mother of three children. We are, indeed, PROUD to publish the statement of this well-known Victoria lady. Her Sincere Testimonial reads as follows:

Attacks of Indigestion Followed Every Meal

"I had been suffering with attacks of indigestion for a period of 10 years," said Mrs. Birkett. "Almost as soon as I ate a meal I would begin to have a gassy distress inside of my stomach, and then sharp pains would come over me, due to the pressure from gas. This suffering would often continue into the night and break up my rest. I always felt worse in the mornings than I did when I went to bed. My food simply wouldn't digest right, and I became very nervous, as a result of my distress."

Many Ingredients

Mosby's Tonic is a medicine of many ingredients, that is, it contains 15 roots and herbs blended with 5 other splendid medicaments. 20 INGREDIENTS IN ALL. That is why this medicine acts in 5 ways ALL AT ONCE. It helps flush bowels—helps clean out stomach gas—helps digestion—helps sluggish kidneys—helps to Richer and Stronger Blood. Try this New, Scientific Formula. It is helping THOUSANDS of sufferers all-over this vicinity. Costs only a Few Cents a Day!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The VANCOUVER DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Streets, Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

I.O.D.E. Offer to Help Evacuated Children

TORONTO (CP) — Twenty-five thousand members of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire stand ready from coast to coast in Canada to assist in war work.

A special session of the national executive was held here yesterday and Miss Joan Arnoldi was appointed Dominion convener of wartime activities. Miss Arnoldi is a former national president of the I.O.D.E. and was an officer in the Field Comforts Commission in the Great War.

The executive sent a cable to Lady Reading, leader of the Women's Volunteer Service in London, asking if Canadian women could help meet the need for clothing for children moved out of their homes in the large cities of the United Kingdom. Lady Reading replied with an urgent request to forward such contributions.

He Draws Line

LONDON — Film star David Niven says he would not take out on a second occasion any woman who asks him to go shopping with her or carry packages of any kind.

It was a family affair when Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Todd and their daughter, Marjorie, of Island Road, Oak Bay, convened for the annual Totem Pole golf tournament at Jasper Park Lodge last week. By the luck of the draw Mrs. Todd, right, played her daughter in the midweek rounds and was eliminated. Mr. Todd acted as referee.

Anti-hoarding Ban Affects Householders

Wide Powers of Control Given Federal Board to Stop Profiteering

OTTAWA (CP) — Anti-hoarding regulations of the new War-time Prices and Trade Board will affect the ordinary householder as well as his merchant, wholesaler and manufacturer, the order-in-council tabled in Parliament yesterday makes clear.

"No person shall accumulate or withhold from sale any necessary of life beyond an amount thereof reasonably required for the use or consumption of his household or for the ordinary purposes of his business," the regulation declares.

Penalties for violation of board regulations provide for a fine of up to $5,000 or imprisonment of up to two years, or both.

MAY SEIZE SUPPLIES

The board will have power to seize any supply of food, fuel or other necessary of life it deems to be "unreasonably withheld from the market."

The board may seize any hoarded supply and reimburse the owners through a price fixed by a Superior Court judge after arbitration.

Co-operation with manufacturers, wholesalers, distributors and retailers will be sought to assure a constant supply of the necessaries of life at reasonable prices.

But the board will have full power to issue licenses for the sale, supply and distribution of such necessities, as well as to fix maximum prices or margins of profit, to fix the amount that may be sold or purchased by any person, and to itself buy and sell supplies through agencies designated by the board.

Penalties for infringements of the board's regulations also apply to officers and directors of companies and corporations, and such persons are personally liable to imprisonment and fine.

Briefly, it is forbidden to sell or offer for sale any necessary of life above what the board may fix as a reasonable price, to hoard such necessities, to interfere, lessen or limit production, transportation or distribution of such goods, to sell without a board license, or to impede any investigation of the board.

Hector B. McKinnon, commissioner of traffic, is chairman of the board, and the other two members, also senior civil servants, are David Sim, commissioner of excise, and F. A. McGregor, commissioner of the Combines Investigation Act.

Plan Tour

HALIFAX (CP) — Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association has planned a three-day tour of Annapolis Valley for farmers starting August 22. Purpose of this tour is to acquaint farmers with spraying, fertilizing and pruning practice in various orchards.

Soil "Sour"

HALIFAX (CP) — Nova Scotia's Department of Agriculture advised farmers of the province to use lime on their land after a series of tests showed that land on many farms was "sour." Soil on 80 farms tested in a dairy district was 100 per cent "sour," officials said.

As announced in The Times at the conclusion of their visit here last week, the British schoolgirls will remain in Canada owing to the outbreak of war. They are at present being looked after by private schools in Toronto and homes are being sought for them. Above, centre, is Miss Eluned Carey-Evans, granddaughter of Rt. Hon. Lloyd George, photographed in Toronto. She was among the many in the group who were much disappointed at being unable to rejoin their families. She has been studying medicine and will probably continue her medical studies at McGill University until she can get home to offer her services.

The Centennial Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. G. Almond, Sumas Street, on Tuesday evening; Mrs. J. Alton presiding. Following the devotional period, a chapter of the study book was taken. The hospital supply work donated by the members was on display during a social time at the close of the meeting.

A well-attended meeting of the Esquimalt Catholic Women's League was held Tuesday afternoon in the Queen of Peace Hall. The president, Mrs. H. Temple, was made one of the delegates to attend the annual diocesan convention to be held in Nanaimo on September 27. It is hoped as many as possible will attend the sessions. A card party will be held on September 11, at the home of Mrs. C. F. Allen, Macaulay Street, in aid of the diocesan library fund. It was decided that during the winter months a series of card parties will be held every second Monday, under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Fotts and Mrs. H. Temple. Instead of the usual drawing at the fall fair, a poultry drive will be held next month during the Thanksgiving holiday. After the business meeting Rev. Father Wood gave a very interesting talk to the ladies outlining the various ways and means by which they could help their country during war, and at the same time never cease to pray for peace.

The W.A. to Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, met on Tuesday night, in the Victoria Women's Institute rooms, with a good attendance and the president, Mrs. D. Muir, in the chair. After the opening of the meeting, the members stood in silent tribute to Mrs. Roland who passed away recently. Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Molyneux reported visiting the hospitals in August. Mrs. Neil and Mrs. Ripley volunteered to visit the hospitals this month. Mrs. Mary Greenwood was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Muir reported on the successful garden party held last month at the home of Mrs. C. T. Beard. Further plans were discussed for the bazaar to take place in the fall. It was decided to hold a series of telephone whist parties, several ladies offering their homes. Mrs. Muir and Miss Abbott, delegates to Kamloops convention, gave an interesting report. Mrs. S. N. Neill, Miss H. G. Bolt, Mrs. Minnis, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Muir were appointed on the dance committee. The ladies have gone on record to give the men their full support if needed during the present crisis. It was decided to place a card in Poppy Day Year Book. Mrs. Cherriff won the prize of the evening. A court whist social will be held in the institute rooms, 635 Fort Street, on Tuesday, September 19 at 8, when the radio draw will take place. A 500 social to be held at the same place on Friday, September 29.

PLAN WELCOME FOR KIWANIS DELEGATES

The Victoria Girls' Drill team, under the direction of Norman Foster, will take part in the welcoming program, being arranged for Northwest Kiwanis delegates, who will be in Victoria for their convention on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The welcome is being arranged by the retail merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting of the group held yesterday afternoon, it was agreed that store windows be decorated for the occasion, and that messages of welcome be arranged.

The smart drill unit will parade on Sunday to meet Kiwanians arriving by the afternoon boats from Seattle and Vancouver. On Tuesday the team will accompany the visiting delegates to Hatley Park. The girls will fall in at the Chamber of Commerce building Sunday at noon.

Annual Fall Fair Attracts Wide Interest

Governor Will Open Exhibition Tomorrow

Hundreds of Entries From Canada And U.S. Promise Keen Competition

"Heigh-ho Come to the Fair" is the theme song of directors of the British Columbia Agricultural Association these days, as they prepare for the opening of the 78th Annual Fall Exhibition tomorrow at the Willows grounds.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be the leading figure in tomorrow's ceremonies, when he will make an address in the Main Building at 2.15.

Members of the provincial government, civic dignitaries, directors of the B.C. Agricultural Association, and visiting fair officials from the mainland and up-island points, together with the reeves of adjoining municipalities, will be present on the platform in the Main Building, which will be crowded with exhibits of field crops, garden produce, horticultural crops and a multitude of floral displays.

More than 17,000 entries have been received for the Fair, and judging of the entries will have been started several hours before the exhibition is formally opened.

Approximately $18,000 in prizes, in addition to the numerous trophies and ribbons, have been put up for competition.

Tomorrow has been declared Children's Day, with all rides and amusements available to children between 1 and 6 p.m. at a nominal rate, so that thousands of children with their parents are expected to be in attendance, while the grandstand is expected to be filled with followers of the horse races.

Wednesday afternoon has been declared by the mayor as Citizen's Day, when a half holiday will be granted so that those working down town may have another opportunity of visiting the Fair. On Wednesday afternoon the live-stock parade will be held at 2.30.

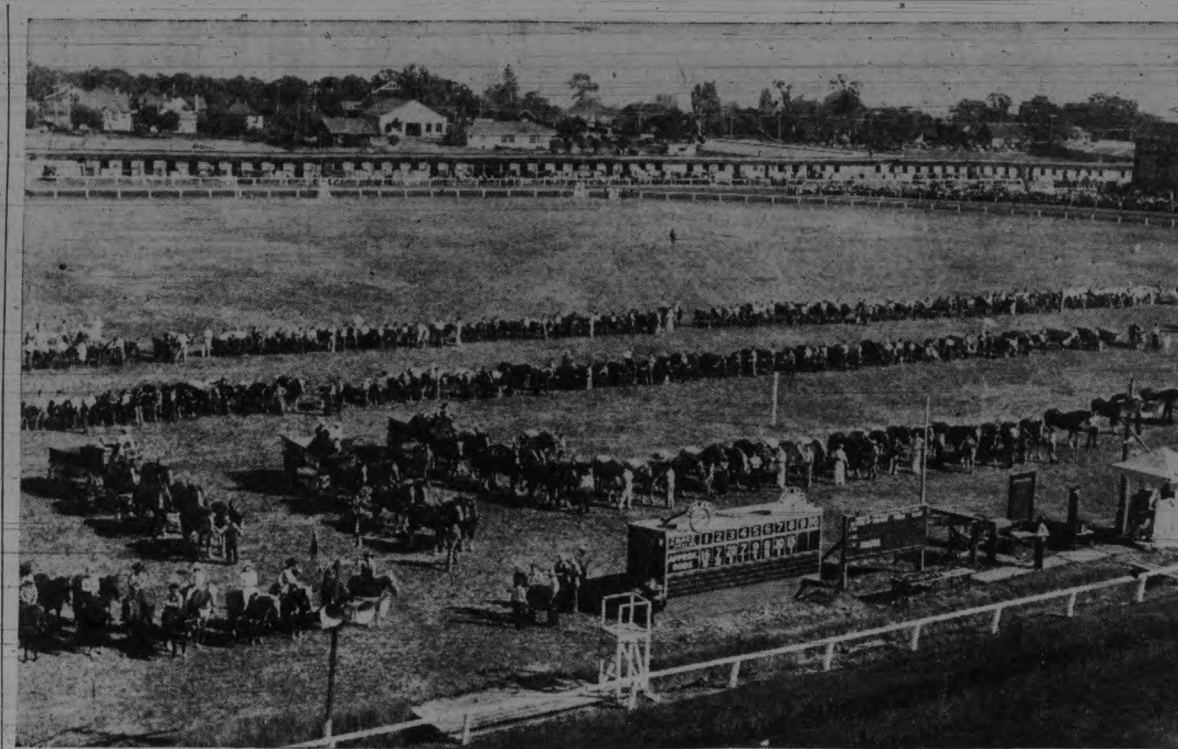

HEADS ASSOCIATION—Ald. D. D. McTavish is president of the B.C. Agricultural Association and heads the active directorate which controls the Fall Fair. He succeeded the late Dr. S. F. Tolmie as head of the association.

More than 1,000 head of cattle are expected to participate in this display.

The Horse Show will commence on Monday evening at 8 and will be held nightly until the close of the Fair. Included in the Horse Show program are eight vaudeville acts from the Fanchon and Marco circuit, featuring Canning's trained animals, and comedy turns that have come from the Ringling Bros. circus, the Fanchon and Marco circuit, and the Hollywood motion picture studios.

On Friday the Browning Amusement Company, with its seven rides and big sideshow, will donate half of its net receipts to the Red Cross Society, and this day is expected to be a busy one along the midway.

Expert Judges For Fair Here

Judging Will Get Under Way Earlier This Year

Among judges who will act during the Fall Fair are some of the finest experts of Western Canada and United States.

With the Fair opening on Saturday, arrangements are being made to have judging start as early as possible so that visitors to the Fair may see which are the prize-winning entries several days before the Fair closes.

Judges appointed to the Fair staff for the week are as follows: Heavy horses, I. L. Beattie of Mission, B.C.; light horses, Dr. M. Sparrow of Steveston, B.C.; beef cattle, Frank Brown of Carlton, Ore.; jerseys, Professor J. C. Knott of Washington State College, Pullman, Wash.; holsteins, H. L. Five boys' and girls' livestock clubs are entered.

Spend Much On Fair Exhibits

Considerable reconstruction of exhibits, with some entirely new settings, has been undertaken at the Willows for the Fall Fair, it was announced by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the Exhibition Association.

One firm alone is spending more than $600 in constructing an entirely new exhibit, while another large firm has increased its floor space to 800 square feet and is installing a new background for its exhibits. This applies to many other exhibitors, and the commercial and industrial displays this year will have

Judging Will Be Over Early

The schedule of judging times for the annual Fall Fair has been prepared on a basis which will assure exhibitors of early awards, thus giving the public an opportunity of viewing the prize-winning displays.

Judging will commence tomorrow, the first day of the fair, and will continue throughout the week. All adjudications are expected to be completed by Friday, September 15.

Following is a schedule of the judging times:

Horses—Heavy horses, Monday, 9 a.m.; thoroughbreds, Tuesday, 9 a.m.; horse show, Monday to Friday, 8 p.m.; saddle horses, conformation classes, 10 a.m. each day of horse show.

Cattle—Beef cattle, Monday, 9 a.m.; Holsteins, Tuesday, 9 a.m.; Jerseys, Monday, 9 a.m.; Ayrshires, Tuesday, 9 a.m.; Guernseys, Monday, 9 a.m.; stock judging, Thursday, 2:30 p.m.; cattle showmanship, Thursday, 2:30 p.m.; rope halter making, Friday, 2:30 p.m.

Sheep—Monday, 9 a.m.; Swine—Tuesday, 9 a.m.; Goats—Monday, 9 a.m.

Poultry, Saturday, 1 p.m.

Individual Poultry Judging Competition—Boys and girls under 21 years of age, Friday, 9:30 a.m.; boys and girls under 21 years of age and members of Canadian Provincial Boys' and Girls' Poultry Clubs, Friday, 1:30 p.m.

Agricultural Products—Saturday, 1 p.m.

WAR HOLDS UP RHODES SCHOLARS

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. R. Michener of Toronto, Canadian representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust, said today he had asked 10 Canadians, appointed Rhodes scholars, to postpone their sailings for Great Britain. He said he had received instructions from Lord Elton of the Rhodes trustees that the sailings be postponed.

No words were received regarding future plans and Mr. Michener said arrangements would be made as circumstances warranted. He had no word from the 20 Canadian Rhodes scholars already in England but said he expected word "within a few days" as to whether there would be sufficient activity at Oxford University to warrant continuation of studies at the institution.

Britain Eases Way for Pork

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was notified yesterday that Great Britain has removed import quotas on cured pork products, thereby paving the way for possible increased sales of American meats to that country.

L. A. Wheeler of the agriculture department's foreign service said the action was taken so the British might obtain ample supplies to feed their armed forces. The quotas affected hams, bacon and some other cured pork products.

A fungus disease known as persimmon wilt is rapidly killing native persimmon trees in south-eastern states.

By PETE SALLAWAY

FAMILIAR POUNDING of hoofs will resound from the surface of the Willows track tomorrow afternoon as the annual 14-day meeting gets under way. With close to 300 thoroughbreds stabled at the racing plant, Victorians are assured of seeing smart fields each day. Two real improvements will be seen this season with the introduction of the camera-eye and the new Puett starting gate.

Jack Short, Victoria boy who has established himself in recent years as a radio announcer and caller over the public address systems at the various tracks in British Columbia, dropped into the office yesterday to pay his annual visit. Short will again be calling the horses for the customers over the loudspeaker at the Willows. He informed us the new starting gate is a great improvement and improvement to racing. "Pete, you will have your eyes opened when you see the new gate in operation," he said.

All the ranking jockeys that piloted horses during the Vancouver meets will be on hand when the bang-tails go to the barrier tomorrow. Included in the list will be the veteran Emil Spörri, long a favorite with Victoria followers. This veteran has been enjoying another great season and was the leading rider on the mainland with 31 winners during the 42-day season. It was the fourth consecutive year that Spörri has been tops for the Vancouver meetings. Art Gruber, another veteran of the saddle, has been pushing home more than his share of winners, and will no doubt draw many followers.

Among the younger crop of jockeys who will bear watching is Tex McWhorter, a former galloping boy for C. S. Howard, famous California owner of the great Seabiscuit and Kayak II. Months before Kayak II won the rich Santa Anita Handicap, McWhorter was regular exercise boy for Kayak II. He is only a youngster and has been showing great promise. Other riders who will be up on mounts here will be Albert Holliday, Jack Bailey, Tommy Cox, Jack Frumano, Ray Christensen, Rex Young, Alex Heller, Spec Simpson, Frank Wilbourne, Alvin Utz, Ralph Jackson, Morris Griffin and Johnny Hruschak.

In the judges' stand will be the familiar figure of Dr. W. J. McKeon, who will be presiding steward and handicapper. Earle Lewis will look after the position of racing secretary, with Clay Puett getting the horses away from the starting gate. With the weather man promising his cooperation tomorrow, everything looks to be a fine opening day for the gee-gees.

Recent developments in Europe and the possibility that Canada will be drawn into war in an active manner threatens to play havoc with sport in Victoria. Both the Victoria Rugby Union (Turn to Page 15, Col. 5)

S. J. Randall Announces Final Plans for Opening At Willows Tomorrow

The popular one-two or guinea betting, discarded in Vancouver this season, will be revived for the two weeks thoroughbred race meeting at the Willows opening tomorrow, S. J. Randall, of the racing association, announced on his arrival here today to make final preparation for the gallops.

"We are giving the Victoria fans everything," said Randall. "This includes the one-two, the daily double, the camera eye, the new Puett starting gate and all the other facilities that add to the sport."

The racing association, as an experiment, started out the season in Vancouver by eliminating both the daily double and one-two betting. Wagering was confined strictly to the mutuels. But popular demand among the fans resulted in the daily double being put back after the first two weeks. The double, with its possibilities of astronomical pay-offs, always intrigues the small bettors, and they insisted that it be held. The one-two was not revived in Vancouver, but officials have decided to have it in Victoria.

Purses for the horsesmen will be somewhat larger in Victoria this year. There will be four $300 handicaps during the meeting, one each on Wednesdays and Saturdays starting next Wednesday. Other handicaps will be for a $300 pot. In the ordinary claiming events the purses are slightly over $200, with $135 to the winner, $40 to second, 15 to third and $5 for each other entry to cover jockey fees. Then the association allows a bonus to the horsemen if the mutual play goes over the 1936 figure.

To ensure the races getting over before dark first post will be at 1.45 daily, and the fans will have plenty of time to get home for supper at 6.

Randall enthused over Clay Puett's new starting gate, to be seen in operation here for the first time.

"Not only does it eliminate so many of the waits at the post, but it practically wipes out the complaints of owners that their horses did not get a fair start," he said.

Randall predicted that Puett's invention will be widely used up and down the coast next season. Profiting by his experience on the mainland tracks Puett has made several improvements during the season and Randall gives the word that it is now "perfect."

Caddies Will Play In Annual Tourney

The Victoria Golf Club's annual caddies' competition will be held on Saturday morning, September 23.

The competition will consist of 18 holes medal play on handicap. The winner will receive the Milbank Cup, and will hold it for one year or until the competition is next played. He will also receive a miniature, which he will retain. A number of other prizes will be awarded.

Caddies who have not entered should put in their entries to the professional, who is arranging the handicaps and will have charge of the competition.

A number of women members of the club have offered to score for the boys, but more will be required, and those wishing to assist are asked to notify Phil Taylor, Phone G 7414.

The draw will be made on September 21.

Portland, Me.—Paul Junior, 136½, Lewisford, Me., knocked out Sixto Morales, 138½, Havana (four).

N.H.L. Will Operate This Winter Unless Asked to Close Down, Says Calder

TORONTO (CP)—While Canadian Parliament met to decide the Dominion's course of action in war yesterday the management committee of the National Hockey League met to plan operations this winter.

"For the present, we must plan to go ahead just like any other business," said the league president, Frank Calder, after the closed session. "But this meeting hasn't the final say. That will be up to the semiannual meeting of the board of governors at Detroit September 20."

The rules committee of the N.H.L. met simultaneously. Its chief recommendation to the Detroit session will be that a club be allowed to dress 15 players inclusive of the goaltender for one game, compared with a 16-player limit last season.

WOULD BANISH RULE
The rules committee also will urge that a rule introduced last season, to allow a club's bench

Move Against Race Strikers

Threatening Owners Ordered to Take Horses From Playfair Track

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A threatened strike by horse owners one day before Playfair track was to open brought an order yesterday from Al Hardy, presiding steward, for all owners "who do not wish to race" to make "immediate arrangements to remove their horses from the grounds."

A committee of owners, headed by Mark Buck, Yakima, Wash., had called on managing director Jack Jerome to request an increase of minimum purses from $200 to $300.

The 180 owners who brought approximately 350 horses to Playfair for the 22 days of racing assembled to hear Jerome's answer, which was a promise to increase purses "voluntarily, if business is good the first three days."

Two police patrol cars rushed to the track in answer to a report of fistfights and gun display, but the officers said they could find "nothing out of the way" and could not trace the report.

The owners argued that $200 purses were inadequate to cover the cost of transporting and stabling their strings.

Hardy's ultimatum, issued "by order of the Washington Horse Racing Commission," was posted at the track.

"Any owners who do not wish to abide by the conditions . . . and who have attempted to influence others not to race, will please move. Failure to do so will subject said owners to legal action," it warned.

"Any attempt at intimidation or demonstration can only result in the board of stewards exercising their full powers within the racing laws of the state."

Boston Bees turned the tables on New York Giants 4 to 3, coming from behind in the ninth with four hits off Carl Hubbell and an error by Harry Danning.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Phillies were idle. Chicago White Sox swept their St. Louis stand with a double battering of the Browns, 8 to 4 and 11 to 4, to reduce the distance to second place in the American League to two games.

Five-hit pitching by Ken Chase brought Washington Senators a 10 to 1 victory over Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians captured a slugfest from Detroit Tigers 9 to 8.

Seattle's Rainiers had the Coast League baseball pennant "in the bag" today.

Yanks Near Flag

New York Club Increases American League Baseball Lead to 16½ Games

It took all summer to do it, but Joe McCarthy finally is convinced his New York Yankees are about to take their fourth consecutive American Baseball League pennant.

With a 16½-game lead over the second-place Boston Red Sox, the Yanks are due to clinch their championship within a few days. The signal that McCarthy had about conceded himself the flag came yesterday as an echo of New York's 5 to 2 conquest of the Red Sox.

The bland boss of the Bronx Bombers showed newspapermen a pocketful of clippings he had collected for the purpose of taunting Clark (Old Fox) Griffith of Washington Senators, the Yankees' leading heckler.

"Griff said we'd fold up in August," mused McCarthy, "but we won 15 out of 16 games in one stretch and in four trips west this season we won 35 out of 44 games."

Joe DiMaggio again led the 11-hit Yankee assault with his 27th home run and a single.

Meantime Cincinnati Reds again were quavering in front of the National League and for the fourth time in three days were forced into extra innings yesterday, finally dropping an 8 to 7 11-inning decision to Pittsburgh Pirates.

Cincinnati's defeat, coupled with St. Louis Cardinals' 4 to 2 10-inning victory over Chicago Cubs, cut the margin between first and second place to four and a half games.

Spilling ceremonies marking Manager Gabby Hartnett's catching of his 1,727th game for all-time major league record, the Cubs made four errors.

Boston Bees turned the tables on New York Giants 4 to 3, coming from behind in the ninth with four hits off Carl Hubbell and an error by Harry Danning.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Phillies were idle. Chicago White Sox swept their St. Louis stand with a double battering of the Browns, 8 to 4 and 11 to 4, to reduce the distance to second place in the American League to two games.

Seattle's Rainiers had the Coast League baseball pennant "in the bag" today.

With the end of the regular season only a little more than a week away, the Rainiers are leading the loop by 10 full games after beating the San Francisco Seals last night while second-place Los Angeles was taking a double drubbing from the seventh-spot Portland Beavers.

Paul Gregory hung up his 18th win of the season as the Seattle club nipped the Seals at Seattle 4 to 2. He allowed only four hits, two of them in the fifth inning, when the Seals got their only runs.

Nanaimo Player Advances in Totem Pole Golf Championship

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta.—Canada has three chances to one to capture the famous Totem Pole golf championship now in progress here. After yesterday morning's scores came in the brackets were occupied by Dr. George Bigelow, Prince Albert; W. Hoggan, Nanaimo; Don Gowan, Vancouver, and Don Thompson, Portland. It was a good day for golf and many sparkling exhibitions were given.

In the women's championship it will be an international final between Mrs. W. R. Cumming, Vancouver, and Miss Barbara Winn, Seattle. The men's semifinals were being played today, while all the ladies' finals were being completed. The men's Totem Pole 36-hole final will be played tomorrow.

In the Bigelow-Ellis match they played very even golf at the start and reached the turn with Bigelow one up. Bigelow won on the 16th. In the Hoggan-Sullivan match, Sullivan started off poorly and found trouble in adjusting his play to his usual game. When they reached the turn Hoggan was three holes to the good, and although Sullivan played—much steeper golf on the second nine, he was too far in arrears to catch up to the steady Hoggan, who won the game 4 and 3.

In the Gowan-Thompson match, Gowan was far too steady for Thompson and made the turn two up. Gowan took a big early lead but Thompson finally steadied down to cut the arrears to two at the ninth. On the second nine Thompson's game became shaky again and Gowan played par golf to end the match on the 14th.

The feature of the day was the Thompson-Cumming match. While both had the odd ball hole, they played very steadily and evenly. By winning the seventh and eighth Cumming was one up at the turn. He held this advantage to the 12th, when Thompson squared the match. Two more halves and Cumming won the short 15th, half at the 16th and Cumming threw the 17th after being stymied to lose the hole.

On the 18th Thompson played a long low iron to the back of the green, while Cumming lost his second shot from an overhanging lie. He was on in three and putted short. Thompson then ran down a beautiful 27-foot putt for a birdie to win the match.

CRICKETERS TO MEET TOMORROW

Five C's cricketers, who last week won the league championship for the second successive year with a victory over Seattle, will oppose Albions, their old rivals, tomorrow—afternoon at Beacon Hill Park. Game will start at 2.30.

The game will be a benefit for Tom Hoggarth, veteran groundsman. Both clubs will field their strongest sides for the match. A keen game should result.

Five C's team follows: George Payne (captain), Griffin, J. Payne, Harper, Peers, Attwell, Nixon, Edwards, Vaughan, Webb, Bowen and Gardiner.

Players unable to turn out are asked to phone the secretary at G 2002.

Minor Ice League To Continue Play

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Maurice Podoloff, president of the International American Hockey League, announced today that the league "definitely" would operate during the 1939-40 season, regardless of the possible effects the European war may have upon its supply of players from Canada.

"If we can't get enough players from Canada," said Podoloff, "we'll recruit in America. And if we can't get as many as we would like to have in America, we'll work on a curtailed basis. Somehow or another we'll operate."

Jugoslav Stars Are Defeated

Puncec and Kukuljevic Eliminated From U.S. Tennis Championships

NEW YORK (AP)—The Jugoslavs had a hard time of it at Forest Hills, when two of their favorite sons were slammed out of the United States tennis championships by a pair of American youngsters.

Frank Guernsey Jr., United States intercollegiate champion from Orlando, Fla., eliminated Franjo Puncec, ace of the Yugoslav team and second seeded foreigner, 6-1, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Previously, Ernest Sutter of New Orleans, a former intercollegiate champ, defeated Franjo Kukuljevic, a big, left-handed Yugoslav, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Guernsey's victory was marred by a series of foot faults called against Puncec in the closing games of the match. They apparently infuriated the foreigner and he deliberately threw away several critical points as the crowd jeered the foot fault judge.

Alice Marble opened the defence of her title with an easy 6-1, 6-2 victory over Mercedes Madden, a hard-trying little girl from Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Pucksters Find Jobs in London

Former Victorian Offers Hockey Players Work in Plane Factory

LONDON (CP, Cable)—Canadian hockey players, like most of the galaxy of other performers who amuse Great Britain from autumn to spring, have found a place in the scheme of war preparations.

Those who remained here all summer or arrived recently to train for the new season were informed the schedule had been canceled and accepted an offer of Major W. H. McKenzie, manager of Air Commodore A. C. Critchley's Harringay enterprise, to work in his (McKenzie's) airplane factory.

McKenzie, a native of Victoria B.C., did not confine his offer merely to the greyhound and racers team operated by Critchley's interests but extended it to all Canadian players in Britain.

Most resident Canadians of the various National League teams have signed up as air raid wardens, auxiliary fire fighters or in the decontamination squads.

Meanwhile the network of rinks throughout the country has been taken over by the government as stores depots. Harringay itself is being used for balloon barrage equipment.

But London, as a bus driver put it, "don't seem 'arf' itself without sport. Already football has been called off and most 'race cards' including the St. Leger and the Cambridgeshire have been canceled."

But London also "don't seem 'arf'" without theatre and cinema crowds. There is a move afoot at least to open the cinemas which were closed as a precaution against air raid casualties.

The Evening Standard takes up the cry with:

"We don't want to fiddle while Europe burns. But we will fight none the worse for an occasional glimpse of Ginger Rogers."

"Even the voice of Deanne Durbin will not distract us from our duties."

"Drake played bowls. Wolfe read poetry. Horatio Nelson managed to amuse himself between battles."

Victors Over Nanaimo In Knockout Play

Defeat Arts Electric 25 to 15 to Open Series For Island Championship

After a fairly even first half hour of play, Alert Service lacrosse men of the local senior circuit charged through with a 15-goal blast in the final two sessions to check in with a 25 to 15 win over Nanaimo Arts Electric here last night in an intercity boxla battle.

Played at the Willows sports auditorium, it was the opener of the island knockout series for the Howe Perpetual Trophy, symbolic of the island championship.

Seven hundred were on hand to view the scrap, and left the building somewhat disappointed. Excitement all night only reached a mediocre pitch. In fact, many a league game during the season outclassed last evening's exhibition. It was a clean game, though, few penalties being called. But it didn't have the pepper that lights up Mr. and Mrs. Phan's excitement.

Manager Harry Sargison's Alert squad was the better team on the floor. They started off with stiff defenses and kept the pressure on all night to win in a walk.

GOALIE STARS

The Victoria stickhandlers put plenty of power behind their forays on the goal, and the only reason the visiting electricians were not beaten more soundly was due to goalie Jones.

Jones turned in a great exhibition of net-tending and succeeded in stopping plenty more of the deluge of shots Victoria stickmen rained on his goal than got by him. Jones' defence was weak, at times wide open. He made many saves that had sensational written all over them.

Ernie Gawley made some nice saves also, but he didn't have as many shots to handle as his goal opponent, his defence being stronger, with Burgess Berry being particularly effective.

The Nanaimo boys staged periodical rallies, but they just petered out after a couple of goals had been chalked up.

The Alerts outscored the Nanaimites in every session, but in the first two sessions the visitors kept quite close to Victoria on the scoreboard. At the end of the first quarter Victoria had a 5 to 3 lead, and were three goals in front at the half, 10 to 7. In the final two periods the locals ran roughshod over the opposition to fire in 15 goals, compared with eight returns.

Norm Coates and Ian McDonald led the Victoria scoring brigade. They were five-goal men. Young Jimmy Pickford and Wally Williams had four goals to their credit, and Buzz Brown three. Ryan topped the Electric's scorers with four goals.

In the preliminary, McLean's Bakery handed Owl Drug a 20 to 15 beating in a juvenile play-off fixture.

Ed. Popham, Victoria, and Kelly of Nanaimo refereed the main game. Stan Ross officiated in the opener.

Teams follow:

Alerts—Gawley, D. Coates 1, Williams 4, Langdon 2, Brown 3, Bischlager, N. Coates 5, Holyoak, Berry, Pickford 4, Price 1, Harding and McDonald 5. Total 25.
Nanaimo—J. Ross, W. Ross, A. Overchick, Lavery, Barsley 2, Ryan 4, Johnson 2, Corbett 2, Brough 2, Venker, Manson 2, Hamilton, Grouds 1 and Stevens 1. Total 15.

Children Hidden Far From Bombs; Art Safeguarded

NEW YORK—The mass evacuation of more than 1,000,000 of London's school children and the city's large number of invalids, blind persons and expectant mothers from the metropolis to safety in the English countryside is being done on a framework of efficient, far-reaching organization, according to F. C. R. Douglas, a member of the London County Council who is now in New York attending the Henry George centenary at the Hotel Commodore.

Mr. Douglas is a Labor Party candidate for Parliament in the next elections in his home borough of Battersea, an important section of London. In 1923 he was mayor of Battersea, an industrial and residential area of Greater London situated across the Thames River from Chelsea. Battersea has a population of approximately 150,000 persons, contains a number of important factories and is quite likely, with its three Thames River Bridges, to be a military objective, Mr. Douglas said.

"Evacuations of school children and the disabled is directly in the hands of the London County Council," he said. "During the crisis of last September an improvised plan for removing civilians to safety was set up, and since then the County Council has worked out the plan now being put into effect. The man heading it is Herbert Morrison, Labor Party leader in the London County Council.

CHILDREN CARRY GAS MASKS

"The general plan is being worked through the school organization, with the children assembling at the schools, carrying their gas masks and certain necessities. Since the efficiency of the plan depends upon its simplicity, all non-essentials have been eliminated. Pets, for example, cannot be taken.

"Under the guidance of school teachers the children are being moved from the schools in buses to railroad stations and then transported to the places assigned to them in the home counties surrounding London, such as Herefordshire, Buckinghamshire, Sussex, etc.," Mr. Douglas continued. "Children of all ages, including the three-year-olds in nursery schools and even younger, are being included in the evacuation."

Mr. Douglas emphasized that every child who is sent away from London is going to a place where arrangements already have been made for his care. The government expects to pay for each child's maintenance according to a uniform scale.

PARENTS MAY VISIT THEM

"The parents will be notified, in some cases before their children's departure, and when that is not possible, immediately after their arrival at their refuge," Mr. Douglas said. "We are lodging the youngsters, so far as possible, within easy traveling distance of London so that their parents may visit them, too."

Plans have been made for continuing the education of all evacuated children, he added.

"Naturally, it may take a few days to organize their classes, but it is intended that their school work shall go on. In some cases they will attend the local schools, and in others special buildings will be set aside for use as schools."

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

This is the first time in the modern history of London and other cities that mass evacuation of any part of populations has been attempted, Mr. Douglas pointed out.

"During the last war, from 1914 to 1918, it is true that London suffered some from air raids, but on the whole the German military leaders at that time were not anxious to bomb open towns," he said. "Now it appears that the technique of warfare has changed and the civilian population is considered a fair target."

Aside from school children and the disabled, whose evacuation is being directed by the County Council, others of the civilian population are expected to find their own havens outside of the metropolitan area, Mr. Douglas said.

ART TREASURES REMOVED

The board of trustees of such institutions as the National Gallery and the Tate Gallery have made preparations, and in many instances already have effected the removal of art treasures for safe keeping, Mr. Douglas said. "Our own little museum in Battersea has transferred the more valuable items in its collections and the Railways Assessment Authority, the organization which controls the railways of Great Britain, to which I belong, has found quarters outside of London, has photographed its records in duplicate and has made many other preparations. I cite that merely as an example of what has been done in the way of preparedness."

Saanich Employees Get Service Leave

Employees of Saanich who are taken for service with military or naval forces will receive the same treatment as those employed by the city, the Saanich Council decided last night.

The council approved the granting of indefinite leave of absence and a month's pay to each man called and agreed to give returned men preference in the municipal jobs when the war was over.

The council assured a delegation from the Saanich Welfare Organization that relief cases which could not be assisted by the organization would not be left stranded by the council.

The delegation, comprising Mrs. W. Foster, Mrs. L. F. Hollins and Miss K. Oldfield, told the council the curtailed grant from the Community Chest this year would restrict the organization's work to small pensioners and direct relief recipients. Formerly assistance was given in general relief cases.

Petitions for zoning in the Queenswood waterfront area and Reynolds Road region were tabled for further consideration, pending attendance of Councillors G. A. Austin and J. R. Scoby who were absent from the meeting.

In response to a petition of 50 residents of Elk Lake, complaining of the noise of the roller skating rink there, the council requested the proprietor to have the nuisance abated as much as possible.

SIDESHOW PROFITS FOR RED CROSS

Fifty per cent of the net receipts taken in by the Browning Amusement Co. next Friday at the Willows Fair will be turned over to the Red Cross Society of Victoria to be used in their work, it was announced today by W. F. Browning.

Mr. Browning has been bringing his show to the B.C. Agricultural Association Fair for the last 14 years, and this year expressed a desire to make some contribution toward the Red Cross Society, which he thought might need the funds now that their resources will be taxed by the existing situation.

For this year's Fair Mr. Browning has brought in a new ride called the rollo-plane, which is more thrilling than the loop-a-plane, which he introduced several years ago.

Other rides will include the merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, tilt-a-whirl, merry mix-up, miniature automobiles and miniature seaplanes.

Included in the sideshows will be Culvert's educated stallion, the Nut House, pit show and the Great Zabo, magician.

Saturday has been designated children's day, and all rides and amusements will be available at a nominal rate, between 1 and 6 p.m.

Stockholm has a museum of telephone, telegraph and radio history.

Letters to the Times

THE MILITIA BALLOT

To the Editor:—The active militia is well organized, except as regards equipment and numbers of all ranks, but the different gifts of each officer and other ranks are not being determined or recorded. This also applies to recruits. One of the most important lessons of the War of 1914-18 is to avoid putting square pegs into round holes. The more one thinks of this point the more one is attracted to carrying out a complete examination and grading of all the young men of Canada, in order to decide in what position each can best serve the defence of Canada.

For many years there has been a great shortage of really qualified mechanics in many trades, hence in some cases a skilled mechanic will serve Canada best by remaining at his trade rather than by getting into uniform. In each case where the tribunal so decides against a man getting into uniform he should be given a certificate and a badge to show that he has offered himself. This now brings up the urgent importance of putting the militia ballot into action, thus bringing equality of sacrifice and dislocation of work to employers, employees and families. Another result of this enforcement would be to do away with the privilege class, namely those many young men who have not prepared themselves by training during peace for home defence during war.

Italian Writer Held By Police

ROME (AP)—Professor Guido Gomella, editorial writer for the Vatican City newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, has been arrested by the Italian secret political police.

The arrest, which occurred Sunday, followed a series of articles on the European situation which appeared in L'Osservatore over his initials.

One of these said "England and France affirm particularly the principle of honor in maintaining obligations assumed toward Poland and in general the principle of independence and security of small nations as against the policy of larger nations, as for example against the affirmation of supremacy."

This Fall opening offering represents a value too good to miss—from a firm famous for its everyday values. The story is this. Our woolen buyer, recently visiting a famous mill in England, noticed a group of exceptionally beautiful materials. Inspecting them more closely, he found that here were fabrics that were extraordinary—rich, lustrous, of undoubted ultra-quality. Now, our woolen buyer is a man of many years' experience. He knew these fabrics would be snapped up on sight in Canada. He finally persuaded this English mill to let us have a limited quantity at a price that would enable us to offer them to our customers at the regular Tip Top price. He succeeded. The fabrics are now here—at your Tip Top store. But not for very long, if we are any judge of your appreciation of a really great value. Never before have we presented such a worthwhile offering. Remember—these unusual materials are available at our regular price—individually hand-cut and tailored to your measure in any style you wish.

Enlistment Is Improving Here

More Recruits Now Appearing at Local Offices; Merchants' Aid Sought

As the public is realizing the emergency of the current war situation recruiting in local forces for home defence is gradually improving, Brigadier J. C. Stewart, D.O.C., M.D. 11, said this morning.

Recruiting offices of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Canadian Scottish Regiment in the Hibben-Bone Building reported this morning the response was better.

At present the Princess Pats require an additional 100 men to bring the regiment to full force, while the Scottish need 400.

The Canadian Scottish will go into camp at Willows Park shortly and scenes there will be reminiscent of 1914-1918.

The retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce by resolution has requested local merchants to lend all possible aid to recruiting by promising preference to their employees in getting their jobs back if they enlist for service.

R. C. Woods, 363 David Street, was unhurt when his car struck a light pole on the Johnson Street extension at Alston Street at 1 this morning, a city police report said.

TOWN TOPICS

The executive committee of the civilian protection group for Greater Victoria, met this afternoon under Mayor Andrew McGavin as chairman.

A meeting of the Victoria Short Wave Club will be held tomorrow evening in the clubhouse, 2500 Foul Bay Road, at 8. All members are asked to attend.

A. E. Alexandor, president of Foster's Fur Store (Victoria) Limited, left Monday for Seattle, where he attended the Raw Fur Market. He is now at Harrison Hot Springs and will return to the city, shortly.

A prowler intent on entering the apartment of Mrs. Fairclough was disturbed at 2 this morning when Mrs. Fairclough woke and turned the light on. She said she saw a hand withdrawn from the transom and heard the prowler run downstairs.

Harry M. Clark was fined $30 when he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public. The charge was the result of an accident at Fort and Chamberlain Streets, where his car struck two light poles.

An offer of his gratuitous service in organizing sports for any visiting troops or warships was made by Alderman W. H. Davies in a letter received today at the City Hall. He had done similar organization work during the 1914 to 1918 conflict, the alderman stated.

A severe earthquake was recorded on the seismograph of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain this morning. Tremors started at 4:12 and continued until 8, but the maximum intensity of the quake was reached at 4:23 and lasted until 5:06. The quake was estimated to be at a distance of approximately 2,500 miles from Victoria in an undetermined direction.

Concerts were given by the Victoria Gleez Temple Shrine Band in Trail, Rossland, Nelson, Summerland and Penticton during the tour of the organization through the interior late last week and early this week. Accompanying the bandmen, under James Miller, conductor, were William Ross, potter, and Fred Butterfield, shrine recorder. The group returned to the city on Tuesday.

GUARD FIRES ON INTRUDER

One shot was fired at a man who fled from the base of a structure at Japan Gulch, where he was surprised by watershed guards yesterday at 2 a.m., it was announced today.

Attracted by a light near one of the concrete structures, the guard, on early morning duty, challenged the intruder. The man failed to reply and started to run. He kept going despite the shot and escaped.

The suggestion was advanced the fugitive might not have been attempting sabotage, but pit-lamping for deer.

The City Council on Tuesday revoked licenses issued to citizens to enter the watershed during the present emergent state.

HUNTING BANNED IN CITY WATERSHED

To avoid confusion among anti-sabotage guards posted on Victoria's watershed and waterworks system, the provincial government today rushed through an order that bans hunting in this area during the season opening tomorrow.

Attorney-General Wismer announced the action after discussion with civic authorities who feared that if hunters discharged their guns in the region guards would become alarmed and might fear some unfriendly act was contemplated.

The area in which hunting is banned was described as follows: All that part of the Malahat, Otter, Sooke and Goldstream Land Districts included within the following boundaries:

On the west the Sooke River and westerly boundaries of the Sooke watershed.

On the north by the northerly boundaries of the Sooke watershed and a line drawn from the northerly boundaries of the Sooke watershed easterly to the Shawanigan Lake Road.

On the east by the Shawanigan Lake Road and the Island Highway.

On the south by the Sooke-Victoria Road.

This includes the watershed, waterworks and pipeline supplying the Greater Victoria area.

In connection with the announcement the Attorney-General issued a general assurance to the public not to be alarmed by shots in other districts where hunting will proceed as scheduled.

"Other portions of the Island are open to hunters as laid down in the game regulations," he said, "and people hearing shots need not fear anything unusual. It was thought best, however, to keep hunters out of the watershed area where guards are posted."

EXPECT TO KEEP ELEVATOR IN USE

Information to the effect that extensive structural repairs were planned for Vancouver grain elevators led Victoria civic authorities today to believe shipment of grain through the west would continue.

That point of view was expressed as the Lands Department continued negotiations with the Gillespie Grain Company for renewal of its lease on the Ogden Point structure, sustained tenancy of which was questioned under a war clause in the lease form.

The city had undertaken to install grain cleaning equipment in the building to meet the requests of the grain company. Expenditure of $5,800 on the machinery would not be merited, the council thought, if the elevator was not kept in use.

Satisfactory settlement of the issue is expected in the near future.

Tells Potential Value of Band

The Victoria Kinsmen's Boys' Band shows promise of being one of Canada's finest youth musical organizations within three years, and within a year it will be a band the club may be proud of, Alfred Prescott told the Kinsmen Club members at their dinner meeting in Spencer's dining-room last night.

Mr. Prescott is conductor of the recently organized group, and warmly praised his students as being attentive and keen. He urged the introduction of a woodwind choir into the band to supplement the present brass choir.

He was introduced by Joe McAllister and thanked by S. Baker.

Under the auspices of the Inter-school Christian Fellowship, a Greater Victoria Youth Campaign will be conducted under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Wood of the National Youth Life Campaign of Great Britain. It will commence with a Christian young people's rally tonight at 8 in the Central Baptist Church, Pandora Avenue.

Will Revive Patriotic Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—First bill to be presented to the present session of Parliament is one entitled "an act to incorporate the Canadian patriotic fund." Notice of such a bill appeared on today's order paper in the name of Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Pensions and National Health.

At the 1914 emergency war session a bill incorporating the first Canadian patriotic fund was introduced. The fund operated during the Great War and for some years after it.

The fund that began to operate in 1914 was not wound up until 1937, when the $1,200 remaining in its treasury was turned over to the Minister of Finance to be used as he saw fit for veterans and their dependents.

By voluntary subscription $48,103,000 was raised for the last fund. Interest brought the total handed by the fund up to $51,584,551.

The fund operated during war years chiefly to look after dependents of soldiers in such cases where these dependents were not eligible for government assistance.

This was continued after the war and in addition veterans themselves were assisted. During the war many luxuries such as cigarettes were distributed to troops from the fund's coffers.

Alex Hall Back From Europe

Alex Hall, Victoria Y.M.C.A. delegate to the first world Christian Youth conference held in Amsterdam this summer, has arrived home with a report on the activities of the conference. Mr. Hall said the conference had given added enthusiasm to unity in the Protestant churches of the world.

The Amsterdam conference, attended by 1,500 youth delegates from 71 countries, although it showed that many delegates differed in doctrine, also indicated great unity of spirit, and enabled the members to understand one another. Representatives from 280 denominations attended.

Canadian and American delegates had been impressed by the sincerity and thorough preparation of the European delegates, whereas the Europeans had been equally impressed by the freedom of thought and expression of the Canadian and American delegates, Mr. Hall stated.

The conference was the largest international gathering of its kind ever held.

There were no Germans in attendance in any official capacity. Prince Bernhard of Holland opened the session and read the speech of welcome sent by Queen Wilhelmina. The delegates were entertained by the Dutch government.

Mr. Hall also attended a conference of the Y.M.C.A. in Amsterdam.

Red Cross Will Meet in Ottawa

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia will have four representatives at the emergency meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society in Ottawa next Tuesday, called by Lord Tweedsmuir, Canada's Governor-General and president of the Dominion body.

The delegates, named at a provincial executive meeting here last night, are George C. Derby, provincial president; Col. Guy Kirkpatrick, president of the Vancouver branch; J. Alex Walker, chairman of the disaster committee, and F. W. Tuffrey, provincial commissioner. They will leave here Sunday by air for Ottawa.

The provincial executive has decided to maintain all peacetime activities in the province and to expand all other services to meet the needs of war conditions.

"The pressure of work will be tremendous," Derby told the executive members. "But we should not allow the ordinary welfare services to be dropped. We must look ahead to the peace and make conditions for our people as normal as possible."

Precautions at Buildings Planned

Provincial authorities today were drafting plans to prevent unauthorized persons gaining access to the Parliament Buildings.

As a precautionary measure it is expected that entrance to the buildings will be limited to the main doors, and civil servants and others having business in the buildings will be furnished with signed passes.

The provincial museum plans a careful registration of all visitors and probably will be kept closed on Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

OBITUARY

RILEY—The remains of William James Riley will be forwarded by the Thomson Funeral Company tonight to Calgary for services and interment.

NORMAN—Rev. R. J. Pierce conducted services at the Thomson Funeral Home this morning at 10:30 for Henry Norman. Interment was in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery, the pallbearers being: Ernest Duke, T. Sumner, T. Lumsden, D. Foubister, A. J. Greenhalgh and J. P. Mitchell.

KNOX—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in McCall Bros' Funeral Home for Archibald Clark Knox. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod conducted the services. The pallbearers were B. Noel, B. Edward, J. Edward and A. McKinnon. Interment took place in Colwood Burial Park.

WHITWELL—The death occurred yesterday at the family residence, 45 Maquinna Road, of Mrs. Gertrude Evelyn Whitwell, at the age of 43 years. She was born in Victoria and is survived by her husband, Thomas Whitwell; one daughter, Eleanor, at home; her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Smith, and a brother, Andrew Smith, both of 2120 Penzance Road. The funeral will take place from McCall Bros' Funeral Home tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn will officiate.

STEPHENS—Funeral services were conducted yesterday at Christ Church Cathedral by Dean Spencer H. Elliott for Edward James Stephens, of Christ Church Cathedral choir, of which Mr. Stephens was a member, together with the choir boys, accompanied by the cortege into the church. Representatives of many organizations of the city were present, including the Rugby Union, Oak Bay Wanderers Football Club, overseas comrades and fellow employees of the Income Tax Branch of the provincial government, who formed a guard of honor at the church and cemetery.

Interment was in the Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following acting as pallbearers: J. C. Cleer, A. G. Mumford, F. Mellor, G. G. Fraser, H. J. Ketchen and J. J. McCreadie. S. J. Curry & Son had charge of arrangements.

GAS PRICE CASE UP ON TUESDAY

War or no war British Columbia is going ahead with its litigation to settle whether or not the province has the right to fix the price of gasoline.

Attorney-General Wismer today was completing the preparation of arguments he will submit to the Court of Appeal here next Tuesday for lifting of the temporary injunction granted by Chief Justice Archer Martin which restrained the government from enforcing a three cent price cut.

While it is quite likely that during wartime the federal government will do any fixing of gasoline prices that is considered necessary the provincial case will go ahead to settle the question for the future as to its authority.

The chief justice's injunction lasts until the full Court of Appeal meets here next week. The full court will be asked to decide whether it should be lifted immediately or continued until the oil companies' appeal reaches the Supreme Court of Canada in October.

Snuff to Stop Flu Epidemic

NEW YORK (AP)—One war spectre, another world-wide flu epidemic, apparently can be prevented by a new kind of Russian snuff announced today.

It was described in the printed proceedings of the third international Congress for Microbiology, by Dr. A. Smorodintseff of Moscow. Owing to war conditions he did not attend the congress.

Immune horse serum, a well-known flu material, makes the Russian snuff. This serum is the water-clear part of the blood of horses which have been artificially infected with flu. It is dried and inhaled, Dr. Smorodintseff said.

One type of inhalation, lasting 15 minutes, and using about a thimbleful of the powder was tried on a big scale this year in Russia, during a real flu outbreak.

The snuff not only mostly prevented flu, but helped to cure it, add Berlin reports Warsaw entry.

An aquacade, presented by the "Y" swimming team under the direction of Archie McKinnon, will be held on Tuesday evening at 9 at the Crystal Garden for visiting members of the Kiwanis who will be in the city next week.

Members of the swimming club are asked to be at the Crystal Garden on Saturday evening at 7 for practice.

War Shoots Food Prices Up

The impact of war in Europe is making itself felt in the pocket-books of Canadian housewives.

In Victoria, butter has advanced 3 cents; lard 2½ cents; smoked and cooked meats 2 cents; beef 2½ to 3 cents; pork 2 cents; lamb 1 to 2 cents; flour from $1.25 for a 49-pound sack to $1.65; sugar, unchanged with most stores cutting their deliveries to five pounds.

One large retail store manager said there was a surplus of 5,000,000 pounds of butter in Canada. "A week ago I wired three creameries from which we buy," he said, "they refused quotations until Tuesday, then advanced the price 3 cents. If they sold to the English market they would have to quote a price of 18 cents at Montreal."

No quotations are available on flour and won't be until next week, the manager said. Then he expects another increase unless Ottawa steps in and regulates prices. Canned goods also are expected to go up.

A survey of Canada by the Canadian Press shows that retail prices of flour and potatoes shot up during the last week, while butter and meats have followed along less radically. Sugar remained stationary in price.

Increase in flour prices is attributed to booming wheat prices. The upswing in potatoes is said to be caused by farmers holding back for higher prices.

Wholesalers say farmers also are holding up meat supplies and selling only odd lots.

All staple goods from the United States have gone up because of the currency exchange. All overseas products, such as raisins, grapes, prunes and oils, have advanced because of increased shipping rates.

A summary of conditions a week ago and today based on the Canadian Press survey:

Toronto—Potatoes, 22c a peck a week ago, now 29c; pastry flour, 56c for a 24-pound bag, now 66c; butter, 25c and 26c, now 28c and 29c; olive oil, $1.80 a gallon, now $3; but pork, 21c a pound, now 23c.

Montreal—Butter, last week 24c, now 28c; lard, 8c to 10c, now 11c; potatoes, 9c to 12c for 10 pounds, now at 19c to 21c; lamb, 23c to 25c, now 27c; chain stores allowing only two pounds of sugar to a customer at same price as last week.

Quebec—City—Flour, 25c for seven-pound bag, now 30c; lard up about a cent a pound; meat prices generally unchanged; sugar rationing, limit of two pounds to each customer in some stores, 10 pounds in others.

U.S. Neutrality Changes Loom

WASHINGTON, D.C.—United States government is awaiting final action by Parliament at Ottawa before deciding whether Canada is to be classed as a belligerent and the neutrality law invoked to shut off war supplies going to her.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources described President Roosevelt today as wanting to be sure he has sufficient votes to approve his proposals for American neutrality regulations before calling Congress into special session.

First the senate foreign relations committee and then the senate itself, it was said authoritatively, will be polled on the question of whether members would support administration suggestions for revamping the neutrality policy to permit sale of munitions to warring countries on a "cash and carry" basis.

Advocates of a "cash and carry" policy have argued it would benefit Great Britain and France, on the ground that they could pay cash and that they could be expected to control the Atlantic sea lanes.

Canada May Make Planes for Britain

QUEBEC (CP)—Paul F. Sise, president of Canadian Associated Aircraft Manufacturers, said today on his arrival from Europe he "would not be surprised" if Canada's airplane builders were "asked" to turn out fighting craft for Great Britain.

Mr. Sise said he was not yet in a position to discuss the effect the United States Neutrality Act would have on Canadian airplane manufacture, and claimed he could not say how many Canadian manufacturers had arrangements with U.S. firms for production of machines of American design in Canada.

Of 11 Canadian companies, three are manufacturing airplanes already for the Canadian government and one for the British government, he said.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and enclosed "Tender for Penstock Valves, Esquimalt, B.C." will be received until 12 o'clock noon, Wednesday, September 27, 1939, for the supply and delivery at the Dry Dock at Esquimalt, B.C., of two hydraulically operated penstock valves.

Plans, form of contract and specification can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, at the offices of the District Engineers, Port Office Building, New Westminster, B.C., P.O. Box 36 Adelaide St., Toronto, Ont., Postal Station "H," Montreal, Que.; also at the Port Offices at Vancouver, B.C., and Victoria, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with conditions set forth therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or bearer bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies, unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

Note.—The Department will supply blue-prints and specification of the work at a deposit of a sum of $10.00 in the form of a certified bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works. The deposit will be released on the return of the blue-prints and specification within a month from the date of acceptance of tenders. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

By order

More Nations Remain Neutral

By the Canadian Press
Nations which thus far have signified their intention of remaining aloof from the European conflict greatly outnumber those which took a neutral position at the outset of the Great War.

The United States, Russia and Italy—who fought with the allies in the Great War—constitute the largest bloc in the current neutrality group, Italy, which early took a neutral position in the Great War, soon was fighting on the side of Great Britain and France.

Panama, at the initiative of the western states, has suggested that the 21 republics of the western hemisphere meet and formulate plans to protect their neutrality.

Besides Panama and the United States, other American western hemisphere nations which have announced neutrality include Mexico, Uruguay, Guatemala, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, the Dominican Republic and Venezuela. All other Latin American nations seem likely to follow suit.

In southeastern Europe, Balkan countries zealous to keep the war from spreading to that corner of the continent, jumped on the neutrality wagon early.

Bulgaria and Hungary, which fought with the central powers in the Great War, were among the first. Turkey, true to her alliance with Britain and France in event only of Mediterranean war, announced she would maintain an "attitude of expectation."

Jugoslavia—the kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes—created after the Great War—Rumania and Greece lost no time in emphasizing neutrality.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark have notified the world that they would maintain their traditional neutrality, as has Finland.

Among the Baltic states Latvia has proclaimed neutrality, and Germany told Lithuania, with whom the Nazis have a nonaggression pact, that she would respect her neutrality.

The Netherlands sent Britain and Germany and France a reminder of their pledge to respect her neutrality. King Leopold of Belgium, overrun by the Germans in the Great War, has taken a strong stand to safeguard her neutrality. Switzerland too has warned the belligerents against violation of her territory and her neutral position.

Prime Minister De Valera of Eire has insisted that his country would stay out of the conflict.

Gen. Franco of Spain coupled a declaration of Spanish neutrality with an appeal that the European struggle be localized. Portugal, which shares the Iberian Peninsula with Spain, also took a strong stand for neutrality.

Japan, joined into a policy of isolation by the German-Russian nonaggression pact, has announced she would steer clear of European affairs and concentrate on prosecuting her program for a "new order in East Asia."

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier John Bracken said today the Manitoba government has pledged itself to full co-operation with the Dominion's financial and economic plans for war conditions.

In addition, the Premier said, the province has offered to modify its own financial policy to meet the plans of the federal body.

The provincial government already has proffered four airplanes and the personnel of the air service of Manitoba's forestry branch to the Royal Canadian Air Force for training purposes.

At the same time, Manitoba's youth training schools were offered to the Department of National Defence for training army personnel.

Mr. Bracken promised co-ordination of provincial services in stimulating agricultural production for war needs, but asked the federal government not to stabilize prices of farm products at too low a level.

SOCIAL WAR—Lew Ayres and Lana Turner in "These Glamour Girls," now at the Dominion Theatre.

Fight to Wear Germany Down

LONDON (CP)—The fighting on the western front proceeded today in a manner markedly different from the swift, fierce engagements of the early days of the Great War.

Several factors are involved in the comparatively slow development of the 1939 campaign. Outstanding is the difference between today's tactical conditions and those prevailing in 1914.

In 1914 troops manoeuvring in open country clashed and fought within a few hours after German troops invaded Belgium.

Today great armies are moving into previously prepared lines, deep and heavily fortified. Such a process makes for extended artillery duels to soften defences and clear the way for large infantry and mechanized forces.

Another angle arises from the need for caution against flanking movements. A quick advance by a small detachment would leave it open to flank attack by the fast motorized modern armies—movements that can cut off an advance force and leave it open to capture or annihilation.

TIME AN ELEMENT
Still a third important factor is the conviction of Great Britain and France that the element of time is in their favor.

British strategists contend Germany's internal economic strength is insufficient to withstand the demands of a long war, that many German arms are made of scrap metal which would not stand up under a long siege, and that German strategy is built around the idea of a lightning war.

As a consequence, the British and French are going at their land campaign slowly and carefully with a view to creating a diversion from the German attack on Poland, where Germany is meanwhile expending ammunition, manpower and equipment.

Pacific Has Over 1,000,000 Fur Seals

An odd fact about the common seal of the Atlantic is that it enjoys music. Men in boats have made seals come close by playing flutes. In the Orkney Islands, the musical notes of a church bell draw many seals into a small bay. Common seals are classed as "hair seals." This means they are covered with hair, and have no coat of fine fur.

A Sea Elephant

To find the highly valued fur, we must turn to the fur seals of the Pacific ocean. They are relatives of sea lions, and sometimes are called "sea bears."

There was a time when several million fur seals lived in the Pacific, but men went too far in killing them. In the year 1880, it was estimated there were 2,000,000 of them in the North Pacific. Further killing in the next 30 years cut the number to about 185,000.

If nothing had been done, it is likely that the fur seals would have become extinct, or almost extinct. As it was, a meeting was held of men sent by the governments of the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Japan and Russia. This meeting took place in 1911, and led to laws to keep fur seal hunters from carrying on their deadly work.

Most fur seals were in the custom of going to the Pribilof Islands, west of Alaska, to rear their young. Because these islands belonged to the United States, the American government was chosen as the guardian of fur seals.

The agreement made the killing of fur seals official business of the United States, with fixed limits to number and age, and with a share of the profits to go to Canada and Japan. Since the new plan started, the number of fur seals in the North Pacific has grown to more than 1,000,000. The day may come when there will be as many as a century ago.

Baby fur seals are covered with light-colored hair. They weigh about 10 pounds at birth, and are "as playful as kittens." Mother seals leave the babies in groups on the Pribilof Islands, and swim away to look for fish. When they come back, they seem never to make a mistake about which babies in the group belong to them.

Before we finish this series, we must make at least a note or two about the largest of all seals. It is known as the "elephant seal" or "sea elephant."

The elephant seal is so called for two reasons—it is of large size and has a long nose. The nose is seldom more than a foot long, and is much smaller than the trunk of any kind of elephant.

Elephant seals are found in the Pacific Ocean, chiefly south of the equator. The males sometimes have a length of from 18 to 25 feet, and may measure 12 feet around the chest.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, September 9

This is a day rarely propitious for many dwellers on the earth. The early morning is a time for leaders to plan important moves. The aspects are fortunate for those who deal with women and should be most lucky for domestic interests. The end of the week should be a date for adjustments, social, financial and professional.

Here and home: Hospitality is subject to the best planetary influences. This is a lucky date for entertaining your husband's friends or the schoolmates of sons and daughters. This is a happy wedding day that is believed to presage prosperity and pleasant new associates. Girls may expect romance under this configuration. Suitors will be many.

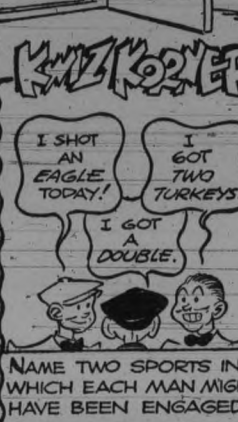

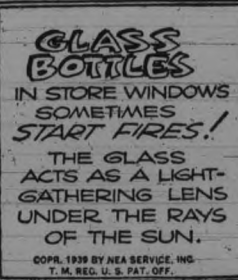

Business affairs: Trade and commerce are well directed to day. Capitalists come under a rule of the stars that promises new interest in big projects. Exports should increase as demands for raw materials come from across the seas.

International affairs: Secret European pacts will be revealed. Japanese are to become restive under the rule of the military leaders as they face an autumn of economic stress more serious than any yet experienced.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. Girls will make new NAME TWO SPORTS IN WHICH EACH MAN MIGHT HAVE BEEN ENGAGED.

ANSWER: The eagle shooter, hunting or golfing; the man who bagged the turkeys, bowling or hunting, and the man who got the double, bowling or baseball.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—John and I have been engaged for eight years, and in all of that time I have not gone around with any other boys. He is 15 years older than I am and he worships me. Is always at my beck and call. Never spends a cent foolishly except on me. We could be married now if I kept on with my job, and he urges me to do so, but somehow I have got tired of John and don't want to marry. I feel that by just going with him I have missed something and I want to do all of those things I could do now with my girl friends. I want to get back into circulation and have dates. I am 28. Would I be foolish to throw John, who has always loved me, and the home he wants to buy to the four winds? Would I find that I could get back in circulation after eight years?

A GIRL WHO DOESN'T KNOW HER OWN MIND.

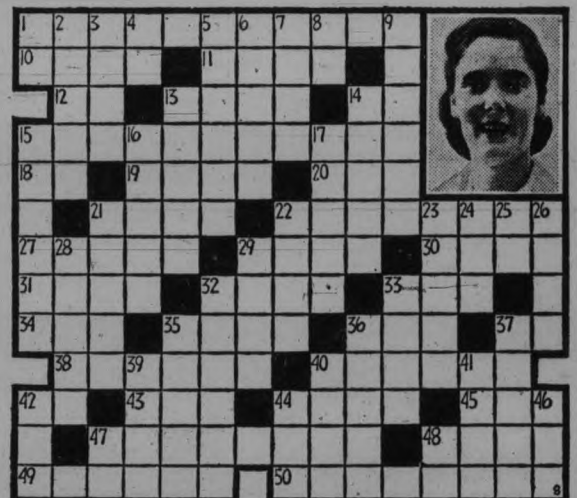

Answer: Well, my dear, there is no time in her whole life that a girl needs so badly to know her own mind as when she decides the question of marriage. If you are not certain of what you want to do, don't do anything. Wait. Let time settle your problem for you.

But don't marry any man, no matter how much he loves you, if you don't love him. It isn't fair to yourself and it is most cruelly unfair to him. When a girl marries a poor man she lets herself in for a life of hard labor with many sacrifices, and whether she is gloriously happy in it or utterly miserable depends upon how much she cares for her husband.

If she loves him, the pain is taken out of all of the sacrifices, the weariness out of all the labor. But if she doesn't love him there is no recompense for her sufferings. And a husband's love, no matter how great, never makes up to his wife for her not loving him. It is what the woman feels for the man that counts. In love it is truly more blessed to give than to receive.

DOROTHY DIX.

6 U.S. Fliers Die in Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Charred bodies of six navy fliers were removed today from the wreckage of a twin-motored patrol bomber which crashed in flames last night after striking antenna wires of the long-range radio station at Chollas Heights.

Burned beyond recognition, the bodies were removed by a navy fire crew which controlled the flames after a two-hour fight. Fire trucks were unable to reach the plane, which crashed into brush some 3,000 feet from the radio towers.

The victims were: Lieut. A. H. Irons, pilot; Ensign L. W. Latimer, Frank Vukovich, H. O. Wilson, V. E. Norris and H. G. Berry.

The big plane evidently encountered engine trouble as it neared the antenna network, eyewitnesses said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Diday, who said they were sitting in an automobile at the radio station at the time, described the crash this way:

"As the plane flew over our heads we saw the pilot was in trouble and about to crash into the antenna. One of the motors was spluttering, then the engines became quiet and the plane tipped to the right in an attempt to avoid the wires. The tip of the wing hit the wires and the plane crashed with a roar, immediately exploding."

Drivers of Ceylon

COLOMBO—Although women drivers are on the increase in Ceylon, a census here reveals there are only 1,702 drivers of the gentle sex, compared with 52,285 male licensed holders.

The chief result of billboard regulation, says one observer, has been to move the boards back farther from the highway.

A.P. Man Reveals Activities Behind German Lines

By LOUIS LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

With the German Army of the East—When the order came yesterday afternoon that a plane was waiting for me at Tempelhof air-drome I was first taken to the War Office to have my gas mask fitted and also to receive a first aid kit.

At Tempelhof (Berlin's principal airport) what a change since I last visited it! Once as busy as any railway station with commercial planes starting and arriving, east, west, north and south, it now is a military air-drome with planes painted a forbidding greenish black. The open-air restaurant where hundreds of Berliners used to sit of a summer day, listening to music, now is empty.

WAR PLANE AWAITED HIM

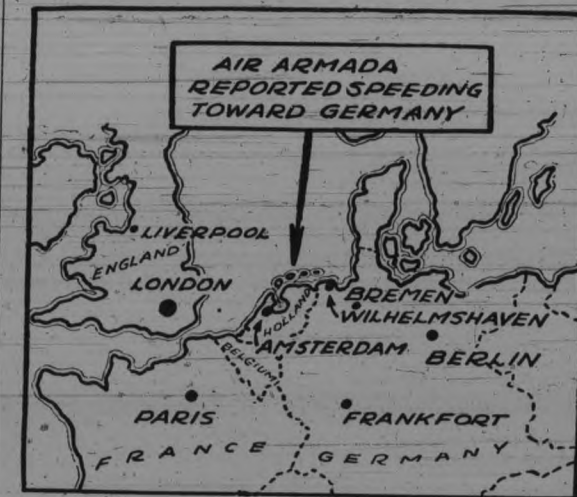

I had been told that one of Germany's most popular and biggest types of planes would be at my disposal. I approached it with visions of comfortable up-holstered seats. Instead, I found machine guns protruding from the fuselage. Steel helmets, parachutes, first aid kits and gas masks extended a cheering welcome as we climbed aboard.

Flying from Berlin via Breslau to Oppeln in Silesia I was struck with the stoppage of traffic on the big Hitler super-highways—except for army transports of all sorts. Germany is rationing her gasoline from the very start and nobody has the right to drive a private car unless he can show mighty good cause.

The railway tracks, too, seemed empty. For miles and miles I saw no passenger trains along this normally busy route; only occasional freight trains.

We passed some 20 military airports en route and everywhere bombers, pursuit planes, power divers encircled by batteries of anti-aircraft guns were ready at any moment to take the air.

It appeared that the Poles, if they attempted to fly from Upper Silesia to raid Berlin, would have to jump at least 20 hurdles. We had hardly passed over Oppeln when war at once seemed exceedingly close. For we landed on an improvised airport at Stubbendor where only a few minutes previously 87 bombers had returned from a raid.

WAR PLANES EVERYWHERE

At this and two other improvised airports near by, my companion officer said, there were some 1,100 military planes of every description. The airport was fringed with camouflaged tents for officers and men. Some distance off were larger barracks.

A lieutenant-colonel awaited us with a car as we landed.

"No use going to Czesochowa today," he said. "We have reports that the civil population is sniping. I cannot take responsibility for the life of a neutral. So I will take you to Oppeln. By tomorrow (this was yesterday) Czesochowa will have been cleaned up."

All along the 13-mile route to Oppeln soldiers guarded every bridge and traffic police were in military garb.

SHOT AT BY FARMERS

The army had drawn on trained police from all over the country to regulate traffic in the military areas. Our lieutenant-colonel's office was a converted school, with cots in some rooms for officers; with a field telephone hastily installed, and with military maps sprawling over the floor and desk.

Two of his subordinate officers entered just as he was telephoning Berlin of my safe arrival.

"We have tried to go to Czesochowa to take pictures of the Madonna," they reported, "but we had to turn around because farmers began to shoot at us from the fields as we hurried along the road."

Over in a corner there lay a few trophies. Sanitary kits taken from prisoners of war seemed very primitive, and some of the rifles looked long outdated. Some cartridges were corroded.

At this lieutenant-colonel's headquarters I was forcibly impressed with the fact that war today is made with the most modern means of information. Attached to each army group are staff photographers, cameramen and newsmen, because the war correspondents of the individual newspapers are not permitted.

In camp barracks and even at the front news is regularly broadcast to the soldiers; out along the first lines a loudspeaker on wheels brings the latest news broadcasts.

In addition, the various army groups—at least this is true in Silesia—publish a daily four-page newspaper in editions of 25,000. The soldiers are said to pay each other a half loaf of bread or three cigarettes for a copy. The paper is distributed along a 50-mile front, after rolling off the presses at 2 a.m. Talkies on wheels also get as close to the front as possible, to entertain the men.

"BLACKOUT" IS UNCANNY

The City of Oppeln seemed uncanny in complete darkness. Close as it is to the border, the blackout naturally is as complete as human ingenuity can make it.

At 4 in the morning we started for the Polish border. I had a first experience of what preparation for war means. The whole road to Czesochowa, 55 miles away, was one long procession of army trucks, officers' cars, horse-drawn labor-camp lads, army engineers, anti-aircraft sharpshooters.

The army of the east itself evidently had gone to the front days before my arrival.

Every bridge from the German frontier to Czesochowa had been destroyed by the retreating Poles. So army engineers, assisted by labor-camp boys, hastily built emergency bridges over which our car went with such bumps that we wondered how the axles stood it.

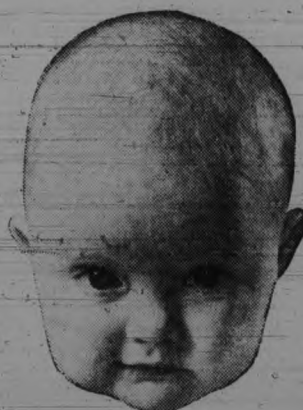

The railway tracks, too, had been torn up and army engineers were at work repairing them. In some cases ready-made bridges carried along on army trucks were laid down; in others steel

Tommies Same As in 1914 With 'Tipperary' Song

From a Correspondent

LONDON—I don't see any difference between the Tommies of 1939 and the Tommies of 1914—they work with the same cheerfulness, the same determination to be as cool under fire as any veteran. They laugh and sing the old songs and ex-servicemen of the 1914-1918 days are parading the streets in small bands, playing war-time melodies on improvised instruments. "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" is still the favorite. I suppose these wandering minstrels are the last of England's unemployed, for all of them show some signs of World War destruction—a missing eye, an empty sleeve or a crutch doing duty for a leg.

I dined last night with one of the officials of the Colonial Office. At 8.30 p.m. he announced that he must cut short our chat and hurry away to pack the last of his papers. His department is being closed down altogether for the duration of hostilities, for it deals with trade promotion that will vanish.

"We have got to settle it, sir," said my taxicab driver as I paid him off outside the House of Commons. The feeling extends down from statesman to street cleaner.

Virtually all business is at a standstill—or in a state of hiatus—while offices are moved to places of safety in the country or fortified when still in the city. Air experts have recently expressed the view that a radius of five miles around Westminster Abbey would be one of the safest places in the kingdom. It is a nest of anti-aircraft guns, surrounded by balloon barrages and supported by fast-flying air fighters. It is the spider's web of the defence system. Any foreign flier flying over the heart of London will be hard put to escape with its life or lay its eggs.

However, some of the largest concerns have moved out of town lock, stock and barrel. One big insurance company has moved its offices down to Torquay in Devonshire, having taken six hotels to accommodate its staff.

The Englishman is learning something of the costs of this war of strife. One is that the Archbishop of Canterbury had to have the stained glass windows moved out of Canterbury Cathedral and buried at great expense.

Hitler also caused the removal to a place of safety of some 3,000 pictures from the National Gallery and the sandbagging of all the books in the British Museum. Relics like the Domesday Book have been taken into vaults. Statuary has been trucked to other sanctuaries. Public parks have to be disfigured by trenches. At Oxford University the more valuable articles at the historic Bodleian Library have been removed from their ordinary places to be housed in an underground bookstore.

WORKS OF ART PACKED AWAY

Works of art at the Ashmolean Museum have been packed for removal to a place of safety in the country. Banks throughout the country have prepared duplicates of all their records and in the county of Leicester—in the mid-lands—$50,000 has been spent on an air raid shelter to house documents from the North and Midland Banks.

The Jewel House in the Tower of London and the state apartments of Windsor Castle have all been closed to the public and the treasures moved to underground dungeons and tunnels. Treasures from Buckingham Palace have gone to Windsor, there to be stored in underground passages that have found no use since medieval days.

London's tourist season has been ruined, for when London's treasures are buried and its pageantry subdued from scarlet to khaki there is little to see in London save old friends and old haunts.

FINDS ENGLISH CALM

The Englishman is never calmer than in times of crisis. A popular song that is circulating urges the Briton to remember Drake, who played bowls until the Spanish Armada was within shooting distance.

One molder of public opinion said to me today, "We are not in a mood to have to go through all this again at some later date. We want a final settlement."

Arrivals by the last boat that came from Germany spoke of Hitler's determination to get Danzig, but they also spoke of the widespread belief in Germany that all the fuss and bother would be over within a few days.

It is important to differentiate at this time between metropolitan and provincial opinion.

HIGH TENSION IN LONDON

In London there is a state of high tension fanned by the appearance every hour of news bulletins. It must not be forgotten that the whole of the political and commercial activity that in America is divided between New York and Washington and tempered by Chicago and San Francisco's aloofness is here concentrated into one city. The result is that you go a few miles from London or to any of the great provincial cities of Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester or Leeds and there is a listless, almost apathetic air. The news on the poster that attracts the crowd is still the local news: "The double tragedy in local home" or "Local wedding sensations." The over-concentration of correspondents in capitals is thus giving the world a picture that is largely of capitals, and while what the capitals think may be typical of short-range action, it is probably not typical of long-range consequences.

PROFITEERING AND HOARDING SCORED

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon, members of the retail merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce went on record as being vigorously opposed to wartime profiteering in essential commodities and hoarding on the part of the public.

The group did not favor any increase in retail prices for foodstuffs and other commodities, except in cases where the cost of merchandise to the merchant was increased by circumstances beyond his control.

Members pointed out that under present conditions here, there was no necessity for the public to make purchases of foodstuffs for the purpose of hoarding. Purchase of unnecessarily large quantities of certain foodstuffs caused an unwarranted strain on distributing houses, it was said.

Social Creditors Want Conscription

OTTAWA (CP)—The Social Credit group in the House of Commons is prepared to carry on a fight during the present special session for "universal conscription of finance, industry and manpower."

At a caucus of the 16 members who compose the group a declaration of policy was drafted and issued in the form of a statement calling for such conscription of Canada's resources.
